GOVT ALLOWS STEROID USE FOR PATIENTS IN HOME ISOLATION

The latest guidelines state that if Covid symptoms persist beyond seven days, doctor should be consulted for treatment with low-dose oral steroids

WHAT MEDICINES ONE SHOULD TAKE AT HOME

If fever is not controlled with a maximum dose of Paracetamol 650 mg four times a day, consult the doctor, who may consider advising non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drug like Naproxen 250 mg twice a day, the Union Health Ministry said. "Tab. Ivermectin (200 mcg/kg once a day, to be taken on empty stomach) for 3 to 5 days should be considered," the guidelines stated

REMDESIVIR INJECTION ONLY IN HOSPITALS

- Inhalational Budesonide (given via inhalers with spacer at a dose of 800 mcg twice daily for five to seven days) to be given if fever or cough persist beyond five days, they added
- Remdesivir or any other investigational therapy must be administered only in a hospital setting, the health ministry said

EXIT POLL

Poll of polls gives 137 to Trinamool, 142 to BJP; DMK sweep seen in TN; Pinarayi projected to retain power

BENGAL TOO CLOSE TO CALL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

Chances of Mamata Banerjee's Trinamool Congress retaining power in West Bengal appeared too close to call, while Assam is likely to give the BJP another shot at power, if exit poll projections on Thursday are anything to go by. In Tamil Nadu, exit polls predicted a crushing victory for the M K Stalin-led DMK, while the Pinarayi Vijayan-led LDF appeared comfortably ahead in the race to retain power in Kerala. As for Puducherry, exit polls put it in the BJP's pocket.

ABP News CVoter predicted the Trinamool getting between 152-164 seats, while BJP could get between 109-121 in West Bengal. The Left alliance, including the Congress, is expected to get between 14-25.

On the contrary, the Republic-CNX polls gave the BJP a slight edge by projecting 138-148 seats for the party in the 294-seat Assembly and 128-138 to the Trinamool. The eight-phase polls in West Bengal ended on Thursday evening.

As for Assam, the BJP-led NDA is likely to beat anti-incumbency to retain power. The India Today-Axis My India exit poll gave 75-85 of Assam's 126 seats to the NDA. The Congress's grand alliance is likely to win 40-50 seats, it predicted.

In Tamil Nadu, the exit polls predict a landslide for the Opposition DMK alliance, giving it a staggering 165 of the 234 seats that went to polls. The AIADMK, which had the BJP as its ally, could end up end up with 66 seats.

As for Kerala, the LDF is all set to retain power with the poll of polls predicting 84 to LDF, 54 to UDF and 2 to the BJP. If the India Today-Axis exit poll is to be believed, the LDF is expected to win around 104-120 seats, UDF 20-36, BJP 0-2 and others 0-2.

Vax by mid-May for 18+ in K'taka

Chief Minister says drive in state will be taken up in phases, depending on availability of vaccine stocks

ANUSHA RAVI @ Bengaluru

WITH Prime Minister Narendra Modi announcing the opening up of Covid-19 vaccination for citizens between the ages 18 and 44 starting May 1, lakhs of people in that age group have been registering on the CoWIN app since Wednesday. However, Karnataka may start vaccinating citizens in that age group only towards the later part of May second week or early part of May third week.

With a severe backlog of orders and demands from multiple states other than their prior commitment to the Union Government, vaccine manufacturers may be able to deliver the first batch of vaccines, independently being procured by Karnataka, only by mid-May.

Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa, in a statement on Thursday, said the fourth phase of the vaccination drive will be taken up "in stages". With crores of citizens who have registered for the vaccination raising complaints about not finding slots or centres to schedule their jabs, the CM said the drive will begin as and when vaccine stocks are made available.

"The State Government is procuring one crore doses of vaccine. Work order has been placed to procure an additional one crore doses of vaccine. The fourth phase of the vaccination drive will be taken up in stages. Pharmaceutical companies are enhancing their production capacity to meet the increased demand. A third vaccine option is also being introduced. Under these circumstances, the vaccination drive will continue based on the availability of vaccines. The drive will be planned to ensure systematic, disciplined and smooth implementation," Yediyurappa said in the statement. The CM, however, refused to set a timeline on deliveries of the vaccines that have already been ordered as well as the date on which the government will roll out the fourth phase.

Meanwhile, sources in the government suggest that Karnataka may receive its first batch of the one crores doses of Covishield vaccines from Serum Institute in Pune only in the second week of May. P5

May 1 rollout just not doable

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

THE proposed May 1 launch of the mass vaccination programme for all Indian adults looks doubtful with states not having enough vaccines and a Chief Minister moving the calendar as far ahead as September.

Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, Kerala, Assam, West Bengal, Punjab, Meghalaya and Arunachal Pradesh have said the inoculation drive may get delayed by weeks or even months. Madhya Pradesh and Tamil Nadu are trying hard to meet the launch target, but there is confusion on availability of the jabs.

Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister Y S Jagan Mohan Reddy on Thursday said doses for the 18-45 years age group will be available only after the current inoculation drive for those above 45 years is completed. And, that will be in September. According to Jagan, it will take four months to complete vaccinating the youth population, which means they will be fully vaccinated only by the end of January next.

The situation is no different in other states though most prefer not to give a timeline as to when vaccination for 18- to 44-year-olds can start. For example, Kerala, which got 3.5 lakh doses this week and expects another 1 lakh soon, is focusing on inoculating those above 45 years.

Telangana is also not sure if it can start the programme on Saturday.

BJP-ruled Karnataka has not officially postponed the May 1 rollout date but the state may be able to start only in May second or third week.

FB blocks, restores #ResignModi hashtag

OVERSIGHT BOARD RAP

Oversight Board of FB overturned a decision to remove a user's post under the 'Dangerous Individuals and Organisations' category and urged it to avoid mistakes that silence voices of religious minorities

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

SOCIAL media giant Facebook on Wednesday blocked posts tagged #ResignModi in the wake of the Covid tsunami, but restored them a few hours later claiming it had done so on its own by mistake.

A Facebook spokesperson said, "We temporarily blocked this hashtag by mistake, not because the Indian government asked us to, and have since restored it."

For its part, the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology said the government had not issued any direction to remove the hashtag.

In the few hours when the suspension was on, Facebook's notification showed, "Posts with #ResignModi are temporarily hidden here. Some content in those posts goes against our Community Standards."

Posts with the #ResignModi hashtag criticised the lack of Covid beds, the continuing shortage of oxygen support, the massive political rallies in poll-bound states, the acute shortage of vaccines, and the huge rush of bodies at crematoriums and graveyards.

A few days ago, Twitter had taken down a bunch of tweets critical of how the Centre had handled the pandemic.

Pvt, govt health facilities running low on vaccines

BOSKY KHANNA & IFFATH FATHIMA @ Bengaluru

DESPITE attempts by the government to allay any fears, there seems to be an obvious shortage of vaccines at vaccination centres, mainly private, causing confusion among beneficiaries. Those awaiting their second dose of the vaccine, in particular, are a worried lot as they fear that not getting it in time may compromise its effects in protecting them against the Novel Coronavirus.

Many beneficiaries who were scheduled to get their second dose on April 28 and 29 were turned away at private vaccination centres, while those who had their appointments confirmed for April 30 are receiving messages from the CoWIN portal about cancellation of the scheduled vaccination and requesting them to reschedule it. However, no reasons are being offered.

Several doctors and staff at private vaccination centres informed TNIE that they are not getting the vaccine supplies. P5

Cheat targets Covid patients' families desperate for ICU beds

MANJU SHETTAR @ Bengaluru

IN a cruel case that should stand out as a reminder not to fall for unverified posts on social media, offering help in hospital admission, several families of Covid-19 patients have been allegedly cheated by a 31-year-old housing contractor who promised ICU beds against payments. He vanished after receiving the payments, leaving the families worse off. In at least one case, a victim lost both parents due to lack of ICU beds that the accused had promised.

Manish Sarkar, hailing from West Bengal and residing in Malleswaram, is alleged to have cheated at least 17 families who were desperately seeking ICU beds. Sarkar's modus operandi was to circulate his contact number on social media groups, promising ICU beds in quick time for Covid-19 patients. With his post being forwarded several times, may have fallen for his promises in a desperate bid to save their loved ones. He demanded Rs 27,000 as commission for each bed. After he was approached by Jayanagar resident Stephan Raj who was looking for an ICU bed for his Covid-19 positive and symptomatic parents, Sarkar allegedly forced him to pay up Rs 20,000 on April 23. On not getting an ICU bed, Raj's mother and father died over the following two days.

After performing the late rites of his parents, an angry and frustrated Raj approached the police on Wednesday, seeking action against Sarkar. Based on the complaint, the Jayanagar police tracked down Sarkar to his rented house in Malleswaram and arrested him.

Sarkar is reported to have confessed during interrogation that he wanted to make easy money and hence cheated the 17 families. He also admitted he had absolutely no contacts with any hospital. P5

BBMP TO TURN LANDFILL INTO CREMATORIUM

Police and Revenue officials visit the Mavallipura landfill site to inspect and start preparations for an open-air crematorium | EXPRESS

MEERA BHARDWAJ @Bengaluru

A WASTE landfill is no place to cremate or bury the dead, and the BBMP's proposal to create an 'open crematorium' at Mavallipura has shocked and angered many in this village and surrounding areas.

Villagers have started a dharna at the landfill site, even as work started on Thursday to create a temporary cremation ground for Covid victims for the next two months. On Wednesday afternoon, police and revenue officials had visited the landfill site in Mavallipura to inspect and start preparations, and appeals by villagers did not deter them from going ahead with their plan.

After two decades of wilful dumping of waste at this village, the Karnataka High Court closed the Mavallipura landfill site in 2012. However, till date, there are no directions by the court, nor any mitigation measures in place to tackle the severe health and pollution problems faced by the villagers.

B Sreenivas, resident and petitioner in this case, told TNIE that residents of about 12 villages located 1km from the landfill, are agitated and have appealed to BBMP to stop the work.

"This is no place to cremate the dead, and as it is, toxic leachate from the unlined landfill site that polluted the local lake and groundwater has killed many. Work is going on on Survey No. 8 to create an open crematorium. This is a new problem for us and nobody has slept in this area for the past few days..."

Urging BBMP to drop the project, Mavallipura residents, Dalit Sangharsh Samithi and the Environment Support Group (ESG) said the thought of cremating the dead in a landfill is itself shocking. Leo Saldanha, ESG, added, "Bengaluru, in particular BBMP, will earn the horrific distinction of being the only civic body globally of forcing the bereaved to bury their dead in a landfill. There are other dignified and accessible places in the city for cremating the dead in a respectful manner."

In a letter to BBMP Commissioner and Bengaluru (Urban) DC, they said, "Till date, no effort has been made by BBMP to right the deadly mess created in Mavallipura. In fact, two separate orders -- on 31.10.2014 and 5.12.2014 -- by the Karnataka High Court had directed BBMP to bio-mine and decontaminate the toxic mess that has accumulated in Mavallipura due to illegal dumping of the city's waste for over two decades. The court had specifically directed BBMP to bio-mine the accumulated waste and only allow "processing of segregated organic waste" which had been gathered from local wards on a temporary basis."

Environmentalists appealed to BBMP to find a more suitable place to address the crematoria crisis. Given that the High Court is seized of the Mavallipura matter, it is imperative that no action in violation of the High Court's directives is taken by BBMP or any other authority.

On their part, BBMP officials said they were looking into the matter and adhering to all court directions.

TALK TO FORCES FOR O_2 BEDS: HC TO GOVT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Thursday directed senior officials of the State Government and BBMP to hold talks with the Armed Forces to create oxygen beds in Bengaluru, where the situation is grim, and hand them over to the civic administration.

Passing the order during the special sitting held to hear PILs filed to address the issues arising from Covid-19, a division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Aravind Kumar said that "we hope the Army will assist the civic administration by creating beds with oxygen".

The direction was issued after MN Kumar, counsel for the Centre, informed the court on instruction that the beds available at Command Hospital are only occupied by defence personnel, and hence, cannot be provided to civilians.

Further, the court said that already, Additional Chief Secretary of the Health and Family Welfare Department has written a letter, requesting Command Hospital to make vacant beds in Bengaluru available to citizens. When the situation is dire, the Armed Forces have always responded to help the civic administration.

Hence, it directed the officials of state and BBMP to hold talks with officers of the Armed Forces, which have huge establishments in Bengaluru, the court said, while orally pointing out the necessity to create beds and share their doctors, nurses and other medical staff services with BBMP.

Similarly, the court directed the State Government and BBMP to contact the South Western Railway to take over the beds available with the Railways in Bengaluru, Mysuru and Hubballi. This was after MN Kumar informed that SWR is in a position to provide 300 beds with oxygen that have been created in railway coaches at Bengaluru, Mysuru and Hubballi. The communication has been made by the State Government to take over the beds, but it is yet to come forward, he submitted.

The court pointed out that a marginal increase in creating beds in the last two days may not bring great relief to the patients.

More beds, CCCs for B'luru East

HOUSING Minister V Somanna, who is also minister in charge of supervising measures to fight the pandemic in Bengaluru East, said Ambedkar Medical College Hospital will be converted into a Covid hospital.

At reviewing the situation along with other elected representatives, Somanna said they are taking several measures to increase the number of beds. He said 175 beds with oxygen are available in the hospital and can be immediately used for treating Covid patients. In Charaka Hospital, out of 28 ICU beds, 10 are being used from Thursday, and a Covid Care Centre (CCC) with 100 beds will be started at Church of South India Hospital from Sunday. While a 100-bed CCC at Endocrinology Centre in CV Raman Nagar will be started from Monday, a CCC with 175 beds was opened in Shanthinagar on Thursday, said a statement.

At the meeting, ESI Indiranagar Hospital was directed to add 50 beds with oxygen. Issues related to shortage of ventilators, oxygen and Remdesivir are being resolved, and 20 oxygen concentrators will be given to hospitals in each assembly segment, the statement said.

'Negative' patients with symptoms to get urgent treatment

The State on Thursday said that patients who have tested 'negative' but are found to have heavy symptoms will be given a patient number and treated for Covid. Considering the increasing number of false Covid negative reports, the State Government decided to adopt a syndromic approach and issue patient numbers for hospitalisation and treatment of such cases, tweeted Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar.

HDK suggests door-to-door vaccination

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FORMER Chief Minister HD Kumaraswamy on Thursday suggested to the State government to start compulsory door-to-door vaccination of the 18-plus population, taking advantage of the statewide curfew imposed to contain the spread of Covid.

The JDS leader welcomed the State government's decision to impose stringent restrictions during the 14-day Corona Curfew, but questioned the government's initiative to ensure adequate vaccine supply. Karnataka has a population of close to 7 crore, with those in the 18-44 age group making up the largest chunk of about 37 per cent, at 2.59 crore, he said.

With each person requiring two jabs, the state would need 5.19 crore vaccine doses for this population. That is in addition to the vaccine demand for the 45-plus population, which is 28 per cent of the state's tally, at 1.96 crore people requiring 3.9 crore doses.

"Many in the 45-plus age group have not yet received even the first dose, due to lack of vaccine supply, and most people in the 45-60 age group haven't received the second dose. Do the State and Central governments have enough supplies?" the former CM asked. "As the state is under curfew, I suggest the government to take full advantage of the situation and start door-to-door compulsory vaccination of all 18-plus population, so as to instil confidence in the public as well as arrest the spread of Covid-19," Kumaraswamy added.

CM holds meet with DCs, ministers on tackling Covid

Yediyurappa asks district-level officials to ramp up testing, medical infrastructure

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

FOLLOWING a surge in Covid cases in the State, even in tier 2 and tier 3 cities, Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa held a virtual meeting with deputy commissioners, top officials of police and health departments and in-charge ministers on Thursday.

He directed district-level officials to ramp up testing and medical infrastructure for better management of cases, which have seen a spike after a large number of people have started moving from cities to their hometowns in rural areas after the 14-day shutdown was announced. The DCs were told to set up Covid Care Centres on priority.

"Funds have already been released to the DCs and they should be used to distribute free medical kits to patients under home isolation. Teams should be formed to monitor the health of such patients. Task forces should be set up at taluk and gram panchayat levels to take care of infected people. Testing should focus on symptomatic patients and results should be given within 24 hours," he told the officials.

"The DCs were told to ensure strict implementation of Covid protocols. From the Home Department, we will depute five ADGPs for supervision and deploy around 8,500 home guards for Covid management. Over 300 inmates in jails across the state, who have tested or suspected positive, have been kept in isolation and all precautions have been taken. Over 15,000 registered volunteers of the Civil Defence Force will be deployed in each ward in Bengaluru for tracking and tracing purposes," said Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai after the meeting.

The DCs were told to ensure an uninterrupted supply of oxygen at hospitals, while all hospitals too were asked to conduct an audit of oxygen and Remdesivir stocks. Yediyurappa stressed on judicious use of oxygenated beds, ventilators and Remdesivir.

He was told that the oxygen generating plant in Mysuru has five units, of which only two are functional. The Mysuru DC was directed to take steps to repair the remaining three units at the earliest.

CABINET TO DONATE ONE YEAR'S SALARY

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

Given the spike in Covid cases and the cost of containing the pandemic, Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa on Thursday encouraged ministers and legislators to donate their salaries towards the CM's relief fund for Covid-19 management.

While ministers have agreed to donate a year's salary, the CM has urged legislators to donate a month's pay. Last year too, during the first wave of Covid-19, elected representatives had voluntarily given up their salaries as contribution towards the Covid management fund.

"All of us as ministers have decided to donate one year's salary towards the CM's relief fund to spend on Covid-19 management. Given the spike in the number of cases, we need to pool in all our resources," said Revenue Minister R Ashoka, after a meeting on Thursday, chaired by CM Yediyurappa.

Vishwanath red-flags sale of 3,666 acres land to Jindal

MLC Vishwanath addresses the media in Mysuru on Thursday | EXPRESS

> When it is difficult for urban development authorities and the state government to even allot sites, how can you sell 3,666 acres of land at one go?
> A H Vishwanath, MLC

Former minister and BJP MLC A H Vishwanath has opposed the outright sale of 3,666 acres of land to Jindal Group at a throwaway price, and demanded that the cabinet reconsider its decision.

He urged ministers to write to Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa not to ratify the cabinet approval that has raised eyebrows, and given room for suspicion on the hurried decision. "Why should anyone give land to a businessman at a throwaway price of Rs 1.7 lakh per acre, as per the year 1995 guidelines, when the market value is Rs 70 lakh per acre?" he asked.

Expressing displeasure at ministers for not raising concern over the issue mentioned in the cabinet note, Vishwanath said the government should constitute a joint legislature committee that will look into the utility of land, dues from Jindal to the government, and also gather public opinion on this deal.

He said he had, on many occasions in the past, opposed such moves and had come out in public to apprise the people of the government's move, though it had opposed the sale of land to Jindal in 2019.

Fearing that the sale of land at a throwaway price would give the company free hand to use it for real estate, he said the government should know it is selling land rich in minerals in the mining area. Vishwanath said he would write to Prime Minister Narendra Modi on this decision, that would cause great loss to the state, and wanted it cancelled.

Hitting out at Opposition leader Siddaramaiah for his silence, and Ecology and Tourism Minister Anand Singh for skipping the cabinet meeting, he said the failure of the opposition party had made him take up the issue.

"When it is difficult for urban development authorities and the state government to even allot sites, how can you sell 3,666 acres of land at one go?" he asked.

Asked about poor Covid management in government hospitals, Vishwanath said that district minister S T Somashekar had convened a meeting to improve services. He said no one is questioning private hospitals that are charging Rs 35,000 instead of Rs 10,000 per day. Opposition leader Siddaramaiah is silent as his MLA son Yathindra runs five private hospitals, he said.

Cong flays govt for cut in PDS rice

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

THE Congress plans to launch a postcard campaign against the state government's decision to cut the quantity of foodgrains under the public distribution system, from 5kg to 2kg.

Speaking to the media here, KPCC spokesperson M Lakshman criticised the government for reducing the quantity of rice from 5kg to 2kg. He said the Congress will gather public opinion against the government's harsh decision, to draw the attention of Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa through the postcard campaign.

Hitting out at Food and Civil Supplies Minister Umesh Katti for asking farmers to "go die" for questioning the PDS cut, he said the CM and his cabinet colleagues have isolated themselves from the ground situation and many BJP leaders have moved to resorts and farmhouses.

Alleging that hospitals run by Congress leaders are denied medicines, he said in this hour of crisis, the BJP continues to play the politics of vengeance.

Loaded with swab samples due to surge in cases, labs taking over 72 hours to declare results

Delay in test results leads to anxiety

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

WITH the increasing number of people suffering from Covid-like symptoms and rushing to nearby hospitals and clinics for Covid testing, the laboratories are loaded with swab samples and are taking over 72 hours to declare results, leading to anxiety among many patients and delaying their treatment.

An ambulunce makes its way on a deserted road during the Corona curfew in Bengaluru on Thursday | VINOD KUMAR T

A week ago, a 26-year-old employee of a private firm and a resident of Malleswaram gave her swab samples for testing at a primary health centre in her area. But she got the results only after five days. "I kept checking on the Covid war room website, but it kept saying the results were awaited. When I gave the samples, I was told that the result would be ready within 48 hours, but I got it only on the fifth day. I was anxious as I had all Covid symptoms, like fever, fatigue, cold and diarrhoea. I had started on my medication when the results got really delayed," she said.

A week ago, the State Government issued a circular directing labs and testing agencies to give RTPCR results within 24 hours. It also said the test results should be updated on the ICMR portal. But there is no change in the situation on the ground.

Not just government facilities, many private laboratories too are generating results 72 hours after collecting the samples. "I gave my swab sample at a private laboratory on Cunningham Road. They told us that the results would be available only after 72 hours as there was a large number of samples. Ideally, we should get the results within 24 hours. Our entire family had to wait despite having symptoms. But we had started on paracetamol. My 74-year-old grandfather too had symptoms and his condition had worsened by the time the results came," said a 33-year-old employee of a construction company.

Shalini Rajneesh, Nodal Officer for monitoring testing activities and laboratories in the state, said, "The process will be streamlined in the next two days. We met laboratory representatives and told them to start generating results within 24 hours. Strict action will be taken against those who take longer than that. We have asked some of the labs that had closed to reopen. Samples can be sent there to reduce burden on other labs. The labs complained about lack of data entry operators, and the government has told them that operators would be provided, but the process has to be streamlined."

Turn all armed forces hospitals into CCCs, Joshi urges Def Min

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

AS the health infrastructure in the state has been overwhelmed by the surge in Covid cases, Union Minister for Parliamentary Affairs Pralhad Joshi has appealed to the Defence Minister to convert all armed forces hospitals in the state into Covid Care Centres.

"The situation is unprecedented and it is further aggravated by the non-availability of ICU beds in almost all government and private hospitals," Joshi stated in a letter to Defence Minister Rajnath Singh.

Explaining the grim situation in the state. Joshi, MP from Dharwad, said that daily, more than 35,000 new cases are being reported and Bengaluru alone is reporting over 20,000 cases, while active cases are more than 2.2 lakh. The situation in other districts is of great concern. "The positivity rate in the state is almost 22 per cent and almost all hospitals are overwhelmed with patients," he stated.

Joshi said that all hospitals, including the Command Hospital in Bengaluru, Military Hospital in Belagavi and INHS hospital in Karwar should be converted into Covid Care Centres so that shortage of immediate medical care to the extent possible can be addressed. He also appealed to the minister to take steps to start new makeshift hospitals from defence forces in Karnataka to meet the needs of emergent situation. He appreciated the state government for "doing its best to make available timely medical care to the increasing number of patients."

Taking to Twitter, Joshi stated that he has requested Rajnath Singh to convert all armed forces hospitals in Karnataka into Covid Care Centres and also those under DRDO and other military agencies for to urgently start makeshift hospitals as that will help meet the urgent medical requirement for Covid patients in Karnataka.

Teachers on Covid duty seek health facilities

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA @Bengaluru

GOVERNMENT school teachers have requested the state to ensure proper healthcare facilities for those who have been deputed for Covid duties in the state. The demand comes in the wake of severe shortage of beds in hospitals.

Teachers have been deputed with health department workers to trace positive patients as part of the response team, and ensure their care. They visit Covid-affected localities, said Padmalatha G B, vice-president, Karnataka State Primary School Teachers Association.

"For an organisation that covers 1.68 lakh teachers, I have been receiving about five calls per day from teachers, seeking exemptions on grounds of medical condition, pregnancy, and age," she added.

Another government teacher Nagamma (name changed) from Chikkaballapur said that her colleague, who had both blood pressure and sugar condition, was asked to join Covid duty. "What's worse is that Class 10 teachers are also asked for Covid duties. Teachers are not given masks and sanitisers," added Nagamma, a Class 10 teacher. She said that the deputy commissioner of the district was approached for exemptions to teachers who were more than five-month pregnant too.

The association has also sought that teachers be deputed for Covid duty in areas where they reside, as was done in the previous year. There is no transport to other areas, said Chandrashekar Nugli, general secretary, Karnataka State Primary School Teachers Association (KSPSTA).

The association has sought exemptions for teachers who are more than 55 years of age, and are being treated for terminal illness, and those who are pregnant and have young children at home, in addition to those who are physically challenged.

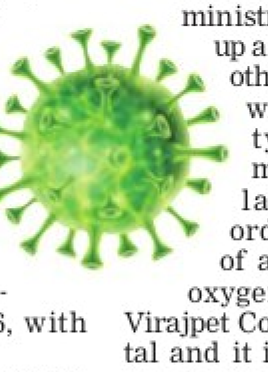
AT 22.4%, KODAGU TOPS STATE IN COVID POSITIVITY RATE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Madikeri

KODAGU topped districts in the state in Covid positivity rate at 22.4 per cent on Thursday.

While the district reported fresh Covid cases in single digits in the first three weeks of April, it has registered over 300 positive cases every day over the last nine days -- the highest single-day spike being 548 on April 24.



On April 1, the district had 73 active cases and reported fresh cases in single digits. The toll then stood at 83. But since April 21, it is seeing a spike and active cases currently stand at 3,266, with the toll reaching 102.

"Testing has gone up manifold in the district, and on an average, we are conducting 1,600 tests every day, including RTPCR and Rapid Antigen. Further, SAARI cases and primary contacts of positive cases too are increasingly being tested," confirmed Dr Mohan, District Health Officer. He reckoned that the cases shot up after the Ugadi festival as many returned from cities after taking part in festivities.

Statistics revealed that a majority of primary contacts are testing positive and entire families are also testing positive after one member is found infected with Covid.

Following the drastic increase in the number of positive cases, the district administration is drawing up a plan to set up another Covid hospital with oxygen facility. Deputy Commissioner Charulata Somal has ordered setting up of a Covid unit with oxygen facility at the Virajpet Community Hospital and it is likely to start functioning shortly.

436 cases in Kodagu

Kodagu recorded 436 fresh Covid cases on Thursday. It has 3,266 active cases and the toll is at 102 after six deaths were reported over the last 24 hours. A total of 433 areas across the district have been marked as containment zones

ENGINEERS HELP TO RESTART, MAINTAIN OLD OXYGEN PLANTS

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

Looking at the oxygen crisis in the state and to ensure that Bengaluru does not go the way of Delhi, where oxygen cylinders are being sold in the black, engineers of a start-up here are helping companies restart their defunct oxygen generation plants to address the immediate shortage.

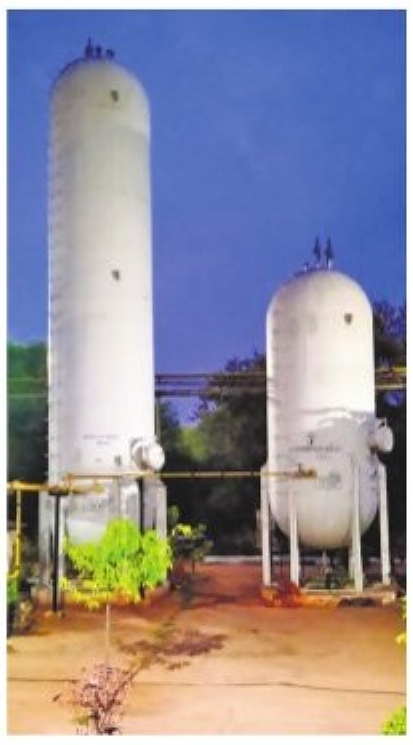
Around 1,500 engineers from industrial, processing, mechanical and other streams who are a part of Ather Energy -- an electric vehicle start-up -- are talking to companies and hospitals to restart or increase the capacity of existing oxygen plants. "The lockdown has been announced and there is not much work for us. We thought why not put our expertise and education to best use and we came up with the idea of restarting defunct oxygen plants. It takes a long time to set up a new plant and we don't have much time in hand. Instead, we can make defunct plants ready in 3-4 days anywhere in the state or neighbouring states," said Sourabh S, senior manager, strategy.

Talks are still being held with gas producing plants in and around Bengaluru, Mysuru and Hosur and Coimbatore in Tamil Nadu, he added.

Not just from Ather, professionals from other companies too are trying to help the state and country tide over the intense Covid second wave, as they don't have much work now with the economy being hit.

Another team of engineers from an MNC said, "We are in talks with the government and industries offering maintenance of their oxygen plants so that they can increase their capacity. There has been a crisis earlier with many plants shutting down due to improper handling of plants. Suppliers too have said that their plants are not functioning to their capacity. We are offering them help, so that patients do not suffer."

A few more engineers, some of whom have lost their jobs during the first wave of the pandemic, are now helping their former colleagues by interacting with hospitals to ensure that the oxygen plants are working.



The oxygen plant at the Rail Wheel Factory in Yelahanka is set to reopen by June

RWF gears up to supply oxygen to govt hospitals

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

With the wheel shop at the Rail Wheel Factory (RWF) in Yelahanka completely shut down for upgradation works, an oxygen plant in the facility is set to supply oxygen to government hospitals in the city. The plant used to produce huge quantum of oxygen daily for the manufacture of train wheels. A tender in this connection will be awarded on Friday (April 30).

This follows a request from the Karnataka Drugs Control Department. The RWF is also in the process of getting the requisite permission, both from the Petroleum and Explosives Safety Organisation (PESO) in Nagpur and the Drugs Control Department, said top officials here.

The plant can fill up a maximum of 104 cylinders during a 24-hour period at a rate of six cylinders (7 cubic metre capacity) an hour.

General Manager, RWF, Rajiv Kumar Vyas told The New Indian Express, "Our oxygen plant presently has an outlet pressure of only 12 BAR (atmospheric pressure), but we need to have 150 BAR in order to fill oxygen cylinders. Hence, we have issued tender worth Rs 55.7 lakh to install a compressor. That will increase the pressure to the extent needed and oxygen can be supplied after that."

The present plan is to use the oxygen for two railway hospitals in the city as well as state-run hospitals. "A railway hospital inside RWF and another near the KSR Railway Station also require much oxygen due to the surge in cases among employees. Both of them presently buy oxygen from private players," another official said.

The oxygen plant set up in 2009 churns out around 20 tonnes of oxygen per day (15,600 cubic metres) by operating at -170 degrees Celsius. It is not industrial oxygen and is fully utilised to melt steel to prepare wheels. The plant is slated to reopen by June.

Ask Centre to up cap on O_2, state told

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IN THE HC

THE Karnataka High Court on Thursday directed the State Government to write to the Union Government, seeking enhancement of cap on allocation of oxygen and Remdesivir to the state, estimating the projected demand in view of the surge in Covid cases in Karnataka.

Directing the state to estimate the quantum of Remdesivir required from public hospitals and patients admitted in 50 per cent of the beds at private hospitals, and submit the requisition to the Centre to increase the outer limit of allocation within two days, the court directed the latter to decide immediately on receiving the requisition.

Similarly, directing the state to submit the representation setting out estimated oxygen required for seven days to the Centre, the court directed the latter to take a decision on considering it. At the same time, the court directed the State Government to submit the details of preparedness in terms of required medicine, beds and oxygen under the Disaster Management Act.

Passing the order during the special sitting held to hear PILs to address issues arising from the pandemic, a division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Aravind Kumar said all the authorities under the Disaster Management Act are under obligation to be in a state of preparedness and capacity-building to deal with the situation. If the state is unable to take steps for preparedness, it cannot be in a position to provide relief, the court opined.

Contact for Remdesivir

Advocate General Prabhuling Navadagi and Government Advocate Vikram Huilgol submitted that Remdesivir is not available in the open market. For public hospitals and patients admitted to private hospitals in the government quota, it is being supplied through Karnataka Medical Supplies Corporation Limited, they informed. In case patients at private hospitals need the drug, their relatives can contact Deputy Drugs Controller-1: Kempaiah Suresh. His phone numbers: 7019861430/ 9035796385, and email ID: kempaiahsuresh@gmail.com. Recording it, the court directed the state and BBMP to display the said details outside hospitals ro help patients' relatives.

Kodagu man offers free food to ambulance drivers during curfew hours

PRAJNA G R @ Madikeri

A RESIDENT of Kodagu is offering a unique service to help ambulance drivers during the Corona Curfew hours. The Good Samaritan, Ashok BS, who stays at Madenadu village, gives free food to ambulance drivers, who are stressed moving a large number of patients and bodies during this Covid second wave. Ashok himself had worked as an ambulance driver in Bengaluru for 12 years. He is now a jeep driver and owns an earthmover. He also works at construction sites at times.

Ashok started serving food to ambulance drivers from Wednesday. "I know the stress that ambulance drivers go through. During the curfew, they will not be able to eat on time as everything shuts by 10 am. I wanted to do my bit in these stressful times," Ashok said. He has shared his phone numbers across social media platforms with the announcement that he would provide free takeaway food to ambulance drivers. The drivers can call Ashok and breakfast or lunch will be ready in half-an-hour. He packs home-cooked food and waits near Madenadu Main Road from where ambulance drivers can collect it.

"I prepare simple food, like dosa for breakfast and rice and rasam for lunch. If I get fish, I prepare a dish and pack it. On the first day, three drivers took food. I would be happy if more drivers benefit from this initiative," he said. Ambulance drivers can call Ashok on 9902270046 and 9483069621.

40 HELD FOR ILLEGALLY HOARDING REMDESIVIR

The CCB, who are conducting a drive against illegal hoarding and black marketing of Remdesivir injection, have arrested 40 persons and seized 80 injections in the last week. Joint Commissioner of Police (Crime) Sandeep Patil said the CCB is carrying out a drive against illegal stocking on the injection, following complaints.

HIGH COURT REJECTS BAIL FOR CONMAN YUVARAJ

Says accused could tamper with evidence and influence witnesses

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court rejected the bail pleas of accused Yuvaraj, who allegedly cheated several educated persons, including former HC judge Justice BS Indrakala, after receiving Rs 8.50 crore by promising to get her the Governor's post.

While dismissing the pleas recently in six different cases registered against accused Sevalal Sanganna Basava Swamiji alias Yuvaraj, who is a proclaimed offender, Justice K Natarajan observed that he has committed heinous offences of cheating educated people, as well as a retired judge of the High Court.

"It is unfortunate that the magistrate granted bail in the case where the accused received Rs 8.50 crore for securing the post of Governor. It is most unfortunate that the state has chosen not to file any application for cancellation of the bail granted by the magistrate. It is also most unfortunate that a former judge of the HC has paid the petitioner for securing the post of Governor, which not only lowered the prestige of a judge, but also the image of the Governor's post," the judge observed.

Further, he noted: "I am of the view that if this petitioner is granted bail, he will tamper with the prosecution's witnesses, while committing similar offences is not ruled out. He is a very influential person and may threaten the witnesses and cause hurdle to the investigation. If he is granted bail, a wrong message will be sent out to society that a person having money can buy any post in government. Hence, he does not deserve grant of any bail."

The judge noted that the accused is notorious and has so much influence with political parties, that he was cheating persons under the guise of providing them posts in government organisations and that too at the level of assuring them even the post of Governor. Such being the case, "I am of the view that the petitioner is not entitled for bail in all the petitions," he said.

The Wilson Garden police have registered the complaint filed by Indrakala against Yuvaraj for having paid Rs 8.50 crore through RTGS for the post of Governor, in which the magistrate granted bail. The Enforcement Directorate and Income Tax Department are verifying the case for taking cognizance to investigate further. The accused allegedly obtained crores of rupees from various persons, assuring them the post of Governor, Chairman of Central Silk Board, KSRTC, etc., as also settling real estate disputes. The investigation reveals that there were lot of filled-in-cheques of Rs 25 lakh, 30 lakh, 50 lakh, and blank cheques found in his possession. He also operated 18 bank accounts, and 11 accounts in his wife's name.

Sarkar boasted about contacts

MANISH Sarkar had simply boasted about his 'connections' with hospital managements to lure desperate victims. Sarkar has been booked for extortion and cheating. The police are also probing whether he had targeted many more too.

The DCP (South), Harish Pandey, warned people not to fall for such claims. "The BBMP will not charge money and allotment of beds depends on the patient's health parameters. If people come to know of such cheats, they should alert the local police and help prevent such crimes," he said.

31 MORE COPS TEST POSITIVE

Thirty-one personnel of the Bengaluru City Police tested positive on Wednesday, taking the total count to 688 positive cases amongst the police force in the second wave of Covid-19. Among the 31, 16 have taken both the doses of the vaccine, while 12 have taken just the first dose. The remaining three have not taken any vaccination yet, a senior police officer informed.

Will look into cases of vax shortages: Official

BUT they refrain from announcing it to the beneficiaries for fear of losing them to some other private medical centre which is administering the vaccines. However, almost all of them are facing shortages.

The problem is this: As per new government rules, private hospitals will have to get vaccine supplies from manufacturers, unlike in the first three phases wherein the State Government provided them with the doses. But government hospitals are receiving the vaccine supplies as earlier and have sufficient stocks as the government is ensuring supplies to them.

Chief Secretary P Ravi Kumar even said that those who are denied vaccination in private hospitals can approach government hospitals or centres and take the vaccine so that they are not affected by delays in taking the second dose.

Health Commissioner Thrilok Chandra told The New Indian Express that there are five lakh doses with the government and based on demand, supplies are being made. He also pointed out that whatever supplies they get is sent to hospitals and vaccination centres. He, however, promised to look into cases where vaccination centres are complaining of shortages.

Dr Naresh Shetty from M S Ramaiah Memorial Hospital pointed out that there is a huge demand for vaccination from the onset of the second wave. "It is going to be difficult to start on time. So far, the government gave the vaccines and it was easy, but now the situation is not the same. We are unsure what needs to be done and are waiting for some changes to happen. There is a huge demand for vaccination now and we need to be ready to inoculate many."

COVAXIN
BHARAT BIOTECH

But it is not that easy for the government hospitals too. They are functioning on scarce supplies and hope the situation improves before the next phase starts. "Right now, we are just getting vaccines on a daily basis. Earlier, we used to get a stock and store it. We have more than 300 people coming in daily and the stocks we get is less than half, which is proving to be a problem. If the vaccine supply is not addressed, it is going to be difficult to manage the crowds," said a senior doctor from KC General Hospital in Malleswaram, a major vaccination centre.

Among the citizenry, however, there is a lot of concern. "I got a message from the hospital to reschedule my vaccination, which was due on April 29. The hospital asked me to come some other day. They did not give me reasons. I needed to get my second dose and it is the need of the hour. So now, I will approach a government hospital or a public health centre to take the vaccine," said Vishwanath L, a 72-year-old beneficiary, who is worried about crossing the eight weeks' interval after the first dose.

IGP Hithendra promoted as ADGP

WHEN DG&IGP Ajai Kumar Singh (now retired) was the Police Commissioner in 2005, he was promoted as DGP.

A month later, he was transferred and the post was downgraded. Even this time, it is learnt, the government will downgrade the post and bring an ADGP rank officer once Kamal Pant completes a one-year term as Police Commissioner.

Meanwhile, Inspector General of Police (IGP) R Hithendra, who was posted as IGP (Headquarters-1), has been promoted as ADGP to fill the ADGP's post falling vacant with Pant's promotion.

Hithendra is posted as ADGP (Crimes & Technical Services), which was vacant.

'With curfew in place, state can manage drive'

"THE supply we are receiving from the Union Government for those aged above 45 will continue, but our independent order for vaccines will be delayed by a little over a week. The vaccine manufacturers prioritise their commitment to the Union Government. With the limited manufacturing capacities, they cannot rush through production, lest it leads to further problems. Since the corona curfew is in place, we may be able to manage," said a source in the Health Department.

The Karnataka Government has announced free vaccines for all citizens in the 18-44 years age bracket in all government hospitals and has so far ordered two crore doses of Covishield vaccines. "Because of the huge demand for vaccines, we estimate that the first batch will be made available by mid-May. Rollout may take up to the end of the second week or early in the third week of May," said another source in the government.

Yediyurappa, in his statement, added that Karnataka has so far received 99.40 lakh doses of vaccines from the Centre, meant to be administered to those aged above 45 and front line and health care workers.

Devas entity penalised for abuse of law

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has imposed a cost of Rs 5 lakh on Devas Employees Mauritius Pvt Ltd for abusing the process of law by filing a petition as a proxy on behalf of Devas Multimedia Pvt Ltd. The case relates to an agreement for lease of space segment capacity on ISRO/Antrix S-Band satellite.

Justice P S Dinesh Kumar dismissed the writ petition with cost of Rs 5 lakh payable in the name of the Registrar General of the high court within four weeks. The judge noted that the petition was filed a day prior to the date fixed for final hearing of the dispute on March 22, 2021 by the National Company Law Tribunal. This amounts to abuse of the process of law and a proxy on behalf of Devas, the judge noted.

VACCINE SHORTAGE Uncertainty over Phase III roll out of Covid vaccination shrouds as Odisha government is yet to be communicated about the schedule of vaccine dispatches by the manufacturers

Kerala to open Covid treatment centres for migrant workers

DHINESH KALLUNGAL @ T'Puram

THE state is heading towards an automatic lockdown if the current test positivity rate in the state, especially in migrant camps, is any indication.

Though the state has not officially released the test positivity rate (TPR) in the migrant camps in the state, officials close to the system said the TPR in migrant camps is almost double the state average.

The fact is that the migrant camps are sitting on a ticking time bomb as there was no proper close monitoring by the local authorities and scant attention has been paid to them in various places.

Sources in the state government said the TPR in migrant camps is almost double of the state TPR and the testing in migrant camps is relatively very low when comparing the general testing in other key areas in the state.

Commenting on this, Akhil Xavier Manuel, District Migrant Nodal Medical Officer, National Health Mission, Ernakulam which has the highest concentration of migrant labours in the state, said "the high TPR in migrant camps is expected and we are doing our level best to create awareness among them," he said.

Benoy Peter, executive director of Centre for Migration and Inclusive Development (CMID), said, "The state will face an automatic lockdown if the crisis in migrant camps is not effectively managed by the state.

Though a good number of migrant labours returned to their home states in the wake of the first lockdown, almost 75 per cent of them returned here post lockdown. Further, a good number of fresh migrants have also reached here.

Oxygen is administered to a patient outside a hospital, due to non-availability of beds, in Tirupati on Thursday | MADHAV K

Though the first wave of Corona has not caused major health issues for them, the second wave is affecting them very badly which is a case for concern," he said.

The migrants especially the footloose workers live in dingy rooms beyond the capacity of the rooms and they use common toilets. In addition, there is no facility for them to go for quarantine. Even some of the private parties are charging ₹15,000 for providing quarantine facilities for them which the migrants cannot afford.

As a result, the spreading rate among the migrants would be beyond imagination in the coming days. And obviously, if the state government has not declared the lockdown, the companies will have to face a situation of an automatic lockdown when labours test positive for the virus en masse," he said.

Treatment centres for workers

Though the Labour Commissioner S Chithra denied the high TPR in labour camps, she said the state government has decided to open Covid First Line Treatment Centers (CFLTCs) exclusively to cater migrants in the state.

In the first phase, the CFLTCs will be in Thiruvananthapuram and Ernakulam districts. Further, call centers and control rooms have been opened at Labour commissionerate and 14 district headquarters to address the issues of migrants.

The department has also approached the Railways to start facilitation centers in railway stations. Migrants in distress will be assisted in their native languages like Assamese, Odiya, Bengali and Hindi in the call centers.

SHORT TAKE ON KERALA'S SECOND WAVE

- Around 75% of migrants who returned to their home states during the lockdown last year, have returned to Kerala
- A number of fresh migrants have joined them in coming to Kerala due to poor economic situation in their villages
- Some private lodges and hotels offer quarantine facility for migrants at ₹15,000, which is not affordable
- At least 140 migrants recently vaccinated in Ernakulam, no other data available regarding the vaccinated
- Ernakulam alone accounts for 4-6 lakh migrant population
- During the first wave of Covid, only 1-2 per cent migrants showed symptoms, second wave is lot more serious

"The state government is planning to provide Covid vaccines to migrants on a priority basis in the state. There has been widespread Covid spread among the migrants who work in brick-kilns where quarantine facility would be arranged for them"

HINDUSTAN Aeronautics Limited's (HAL) Advanced Light Helicopter Dhruv Mk III MR has successfully demonstrated its deck-operations capabilities that include landing on the deck, folding of blades and storing the helicopter inside the onboard hangar.

A statement from HAL said the recently concluded shipborne trials off Chennai coast, in collaboration with the Indian Coast Guard, also covered maintenance activities inside the hangar and on the deck, hot refuelling with engines running on the deck. HAL had recently delivered ALH Dhruv Mk III MR to the Indian Coast Guard as part of its 16 ALH contract.

HAL CMD R Madhavan said the trials have proven the capability of ALH Dhruv to carry out extended operations from ships. Some of the missions that were successfully executed were surveillance, search and rescue, anti-pollution to address oil spillage. "With the successful demonstration of these capabilities, like blade folding, stowage, the helicopter is now ready to be fielded for operations," he stated. Dhruv Mk III MR is equipped with the modern surveillance radar that can detect and identify ships and boats up to a range of 120 nautical miles to enable the Indian Coast Guard in its duty to secure the nation from threats.

Pandemic hit education, no access to online classes, says working kids

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

REPRESENTATIVES of unions and organisations of working children and adolescents from Karnataka, New Delhi, Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan, Gujarat, West Bengal, Tamil Nadu and Maharashtra, on the eve of National Anti-Child Labour Day on April 30, spoke of how they were unable to access online classes and requested the government to help them and their families with free Covid vaccination, medical kits, among other demands for safe shelter and livelihood.

Speaking during the event 'Children: Ambassadors of Change', the young representatives said that COVID-19 has further aggravated many of the longstanding systemic issues, gravely affecting them and their communities.

The speakers commented on the state of education hit by the pandemic and the lack of access to online education for working children. "We do not have access to smartphones, and even if we manage to arrange for one phone for many of us, we don't have internet facilities, for which we must have subsidy from the government," they said, recommending that educational kits for easy learning like 'Shaishav' in Gujarat and community-based small group teaching -- 'Vidyagama' in Karnataka -- should be made available to all children.

"As representatives of our unions and child-led organisations, we demand protection for all working children, safe work environment and pay parity for girls and boys. We work because we have to survive and we have to support our families. Laws that penalise us should not be implemented," they stated.

They asked the government to identify people and agencies that sell children and subject them to all forms of exploitation, and also not "direct them to such institutions to stay and be safe", they stated. The young unionists also demanded employment under the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA) for adolescents in the age group of 16-18 years.

The participants in Thursday's virtual event were from Tarun Sena, Bhima Sangha, Vidiyal Child Rights Movement, Azad Jugnu Club, Praajak's Youth Collective, Balak Nama and Bal Adhikar Sangharsh Sanghatan (BASS) under the banner of 'Children: Ambassadors of Change'.

The Child Labour (Prohibition and Regulation) Amendment Act, 2016, had amended the earlier Act of 1986. The amendment, while prohibiting the employment of children aged between 6 and 14 years in any occupation, had introduced the category of 'adolescents' aged between 14 and 18 years, who were prohibited from working in "hazardous occupations and processes".

The amendment had also provided for the rehabilitation of children or adolescents employed illegally and had set up the Child and Adolescent Labour Rehabilitation Fund at the district level for this purpose. The amendment prescribed stringent punishment for those employing children and adolescents.

As representatives of our unions and child-led organisations, we demand protection for all working children, safe work environment and pay parity for girls and boys

WHY KERALA MUST AVOID POST-RESULT CHAOS

A win in an election is a natural occasion for a big celebration. But when the results of the closely fought election for 140 Assembly seats in Kerala come out on May 2, the reality of the dangerous times we live in and the pressing demand for increased caution will continue to dominate the mood. While the big question is whether the voters will preserve the state's political tradition of choosing the LDF and UDF alternately or set a new precedent and stick to the incumbent ruling alliance, the hope is that the verdict will be decisive, either way. A hung Assembly will only lead to further chaos, severely damaging the fight against the pandemic. Instead of bouquets that usually welcome the incoming ministry, a set of tough challenges will usher in the new team this time. The projection that the state may be dealing with more than eight lakh active Covid cases and a daily caseload of around 50,000 by mid-May will require the new administration's immediate attention. There is no room for the usual bickering over ministerial berths and portfolios. The best gift that the winning front can give people is to put in place a professional and robust Cabinet as soon as possible.

The new team will have to prescribe some bitter pills for the people soon after taking over. While experts have suggested that the state be locked down to contain the virus that is on the rampage, the incumbent government has been dithering on taking a call. The challenges of procuring vaccines and distributing them will be the next big responsibility. Conducting university and engineering entrance exams amidst the pandemic will also require some stern and innovative thinking. Though the outgoing finance minister Thomas Isaac claimed there is a ₹3,000-crore surplus in the treasury, it is not a secret that the state's financial health is critical. The crisis also calls for a responsible opposition. Forgoing the usual post-poll grieving period, the opposition will need to be on the ground from day one with constructive actions and suggestions. Parties and politicians have caused enough damage through blatant and large-scale violation of pandemic-time rules during electioneering. They must ensure that the post-result period doesn't contribute to the crisis.

DEFER ANDHRA INTER EXAMS

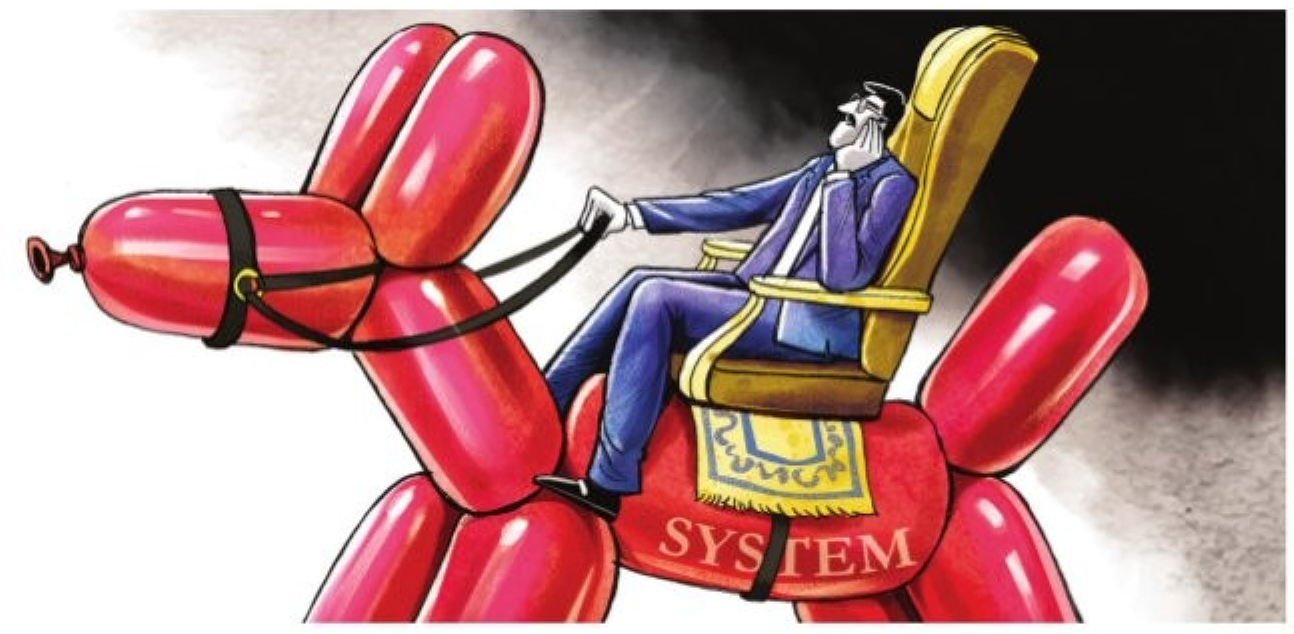
The Andhra Pradesh government is firm on going ahead with Intermediate and SSC exams as per schedule, notwithstanding the increasingly alarming Covid situation in the State. Inter examinations are to be held from May 5 to 19, and SSC from June 7 to 16. It is but natural for parents and students to be concerned though none has vociferously opposed the government decision. A cursory glance at the Covid figures shows cases are surging by the day. The state has been recording single-day spike records daily and the number of cases registered this year crossed the one lakh mark on Wednesday. Fatalities too are rising with over 50 people succumbing to the deadly virus almost every other day.

The government has revived several restrictions, including stipulating only 50% occupancy in buses, and declared summer holidays for school students. Under these circumstances, how prudent is it to press ahead with Inter examinations since the situation is unlikely to drastically improve within a week? There is a month's time for SSC exams and as the government rightly pointed out, there is no need to cancel them right now. But for Intermediate first and second year students and their parents, the exams coupled with fears of Covid spread present a big challenge. Education Minister A Suresh took great pains to allay fears, explaining the steps being taken at the 1,452 exam centres across the state. The government's contention is that cancelling the exams could adversely affect the students' future. It is an easy decision to call them off, he pointed out, while stressing the need to stick to the schedule despite the pandemic in the interests of the students. But cancellation is not the only option available! Why can't the government defer Inter examinations by a few weeks when the situation may stabilise?

Several state governments, including Telangana, Tamil Nadu, Haryana, Uttarakhand and Punjab, have either cancelled or deferred examinations. The Centre too has scrapped CBSE Class 10 Board exams and postponed Class 12 exams. Even now, it is not too late. The state government ought to rethink and postpone Inter exams. Better safe than sorry.

When the pandemic broke out last year, showmanship and event management were top priority. Essential tasks like factoring in expert advice were considered less glamorous

COVID AND THE ADMINISTRATION OF A TRAGEDY



AMIT BANDRE

JAWHAR SIRCAR

Retired civil servant. Former Culture Secretary and ex-CEO, Prasar Bharati

I had the unique opportunity to observe from within the functioning of the Narendra Modi administration for over two years, as head of the national public broadcaster. I resigned before my term, when I could take it no more. I witnessed at close quarters the collapse of the apparatus of governance, which invariably invites catastrophes of the type we are suffering now.

At a conceptual level, the problem arose when the square peg of an American Presidential system that legitimised a highly personalised style of functioning was hammered into the round hole of the existing British-inspired Cabinet system. It does not require a very high IQ to realise that a vast and impossibly diverse country like India can function only through a 'federal equilibrium' and other impositions destroy a carefully crafted power/responsibility-sharing model, without a better alternative.

The initial euphoria over the arrival of a decisive leadership after years of listless governance, however, gave way to another grim reality. Senior officials had hoped that Modi would deactivate his suspicious nature and curb his urge to centralise powers and demand unquestioned obedience—now that he had reached the pinnacle. They were soon disappointed, though he did slash through the proverbial inter-ministerial turf battles. But the frequency and intensity with which he started summoning secretaries directly for briefings and presentations were quite unusual, as no PM had tried such micro-management. It revealed his 'control freak' nature, his deliberate bypassing of his ministers. Modi soon sized up his secretaries, not necessarily correctly, and his permanent scowl started sending cold shivers. He then resorted to his unabashed mode of operating through favourites, which demoralised other equally or more talented officers. The latter had not crawled to ingratiate themselves. Lightning transfers became commonplace, and the PMO controlled every appointment to senior posts, as well as to boards and committees. Though inputs were taken from the RSS, the Intelligence Bureau and the spy chief, the NSA, mattered more. Stalinist shadows grew longer and head-less organisations suffered when appointments took years. Babus and businessmen, however, learnt to fake everlasting loyalty and started wooing Sanghis.

But no government could function with just handpicked cheerleaders, and experienced bureaucrats stopped sharing their lifelong experience, out of fear, and the political savvy of ministers was treated with contempt. As the Cabinet system crashed and responsibility became opaque, India's performance ranking in all internationally comparable indices started tumbling, every year. And the inviolability of statistics disappeared, as fudging began. Officers realised that only style and spectacle mattered, not substance. All existing welfare schemes were revamped, taking care to rename them as 'Pradhan Mantri' yojanas. Catchy tag-lines and acronyms were produced by highly paid professional advertising agencies and the PM loved playing around with alphabets. It is not as if no work was done, but that it was suicidal to report adverse feedback. But no one was prepared when earth-shaking policies, like demonetisation, were decided in secret, without proper discussions. The leader was thrilled to stun the nation with dramatic announcements.

The initial euphoria over the arrival of a decisive leadership after years of listless governance gave way to another grim reality. ... I witnessed at close quarters the collapse of the apparatus of governance. The invincible 'spell' is finally breaking

Thus, when Covid-19 broke out last year, showmanship and event management were top priority. Essential tasks like factoring in expert advice, learning from others' experience and planning/arranging for critical requirements were considered less glamorous. Over-centralisation meant that producing, procuring and distributing even low-skill items like masks and PPE kits were decided by Raisina Hill. The knee-jerk and theatrical declaration of nation-wide lockdown in March 2020, when the curve of infections had barely risen, was quite unwarranted but it demonstrated raw power. It broke the spine of an already badly slip-disced economy. Just because the home minister was/is Modi's most trusted factotum, all decisions, even those well beyond its competence, were decided by the lathi-wielding home ministry, not the health ministry. Regular imperious edicts flowed, without consultation. Relief work has always been an integral part of Indian administration, but since the two leaders maintained an eerie silence on the plight of migrant workers, no relief camps came up to alleviate such an enormous human tragedy.

While every sensible nation planned the production, import and distribution of vaccines and oxygen several months ago, India woke up to issues like pricing, supplies and international obligations only a couple of months ago. Even simple arithmetic of supply versus demand was hardly understood, advice from specialists received lower priority and the regime let its defences down. Modi announced India's total victory over Covid and declared that we were the "pharmacy of the world". Precious vaccines and oxygen were exported but it was ultimately the Kumbh Mela's millions that invited the wrath of the gods. The second wave was provoked to hit us, and when it did, Modi-Shah were busy with election rallies to respond seriously. Their unequivocally centralised government collapsed, and those most responsible absconded, as unprecedented chaos reigns. Modi was soon roasted over the coals by the international media that carpet-bombed all with tragic visuals of death and disaster, indicting him mercilessly for letting the world down.

The invincible 'spell' is finally breaking, but what we need immediately is fire-fighting and imaginative response, not vengeance.

PANDEMIC PREPAREDNESS, THE WAY FORWARD

AMAR PATNAIK

BJD Rajya Sabha MP from Odisha and a former CAG bureaucrat

As India reels under a massive second wave of the coronavirus pandemic, the positive cases and deaths are rising alarmingly, forcing many states to impose limited lockdowns once again in order to curb the spread of the virus. It is required to learn and implement lessons from previous pandemics and other natural disasters.

Lessons from 1918: The Spanish Flu pandemic data shows that the second wave was the deadliest as it affected and killed more people in a short period than other waves during the entire pandemic. As data has shown so far, many countries have already experienced a major second wave and some a third one; hence, there was no reason for us to believe that the situation would be different in India. The Covid-19 cases in India are now at their highest level since the beginning of October 2020 and complicating matters further, some new variants of the virus are thought to be responsible for the sudden spike. Even though we were victorious in handling the first wave, we should have prepared for possible second and third waves knowing fully well from history that subsequent waves are almost a certainty and have invariably been much deadlier.

Public health planning and communication should have been strengthened after the lull in cases between November-February instead of sending out mixed messages and dismantling emergency medical infrastructure deployed during the first wave and removing physical distancing restrictions too quickly. While this is certainly not the time to look in hindsight and blame governments for not doing enough or people themselves for not adhering to Covid-appropriate behaviour, we need to quickly learn and make amends—all of us!

Disaster preparedness and building redundancies: While we are dealing with the pandemic largely under the ambit of the Disaster Management Act, 2005, which established the National Disaster Management Authority (NDMA) besides the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897 (as amended last year), all our effort after the first wave has been confined only to post-disaster response and restoration. We should have considered the other essential elements of a natural disaster management system like pre-disaster preparedness and mitigation. This was all the more important because while we confronted the first wave without any preparedness due to the once-in-a century pandemic's novelty, we could have used that experience to ramp up preparedness and mitigation measures for a possible second or third wave by building the requisite redundancies.

We should prepare a full-fledged preparedness and mitigation plan alongside a post-disaster response and recovery strategy nationally, broken down to region-wise micro-strategies framed in consultation with the states just as we currently do for a natural disaster like cyclones or floods.

As a part of disaster preparedness against cyclones and floods, Odisha constructed close to a 1,000 multi-purpose cyclone shelters after the super cyclone of 1999 which, though they remain unused for most part of the year, are like hot sites ready to start functioning as and when a cyclone or flood strikes. We have seen the results of such preparedness by Odisha in the form of near zero loss of lives and property in calamities after calamities, which has been repeatedly applauded by the UN and other international agencies.

Genomic surveillance should be scaled up to track variants as early as possible to assess the efficacies of the various vaccines a priori. ... Make no mistake, there will be subsequent waves, and India must heed the lessons from the current wave and the 1918 pandemic

Since the 1990s with the SARS, MERS and Ebola viruses creating havoc in localised regions, the possibility of such events (pandemics) occurring had increased manifold all over the world and hence, our systems and structures like the NDMA should not look at these redundancies as a wastage of resources. If the NDMA had prepared such a plan, it would have most possibly built these redundancies to fight the sharp increase in the demand for oxygen, hospital beds and ICU facilities being faced now.

For this reason, temporary pandemic care centres at panchayat, block and district levels have to be identified and kept ready for operation at short notice; adequate supply of oxygen, oxygen beds, and equipment like ventilators and ambulances with oxygen facilities have to be ensured and deployment plans for doctors, nurses and paramedics kept ready just as Odisha had done during the first wave of the pandemic. Even though it was confronting a pandemic for the first time, the Odisha government used its previous experience in handling natural disasters to involve community and build community resilience to manage Covid, particularly in rural areas—starting from involving women SHGs for spreading awareness and distribution of ration to delegating power to district magistrates and sarpanchs. There were also separate Covid and non-Covid hospitals, and data and modelling were used to decide micro-containment strategies and plans.

Conclusion: As things stand, we should hope for the best with respect to the current second wave, and at the same time prepare for the worst, for what could be coming, possibly a third wave or a variant that beats the acquired or vaccine-induced antibody regime that has been discussed by experts as a distinct possibility. Governments across states should look to build medical infrastructure and redundancies in our health systems so that in future, we are not overwhelmed during such a crisis. States should be empowered to not only dip into the State Disaster Response Fund (SDRF) without awaiting approval from the Union government but also use the funding available to scale up and build acceptable levels of redundancies in medical infrastructure in the longer term.

We should continue to reinvigorate smart testing and tracing, with firm messaging on social distancing and masking. Genomic surveillance should be scaled up to track variants as early as possible to assess the efficacies of the various vaccines a priori. Supply chains for production and manufacturing medical APIs, PPE kits and medical oxygen facilities have to be augmented manifold all over the country, in every state and district.

Make no mistake, there will be subsequent waves, and India must heed the lessons from the current wave and the 1918 pandemic or else, all our efforts will be futile including vaccination.

Will help senior citizens

The decision of the Kerala Government to give priority to those receiving the second dose of the Covid-19 vaccine by not insisting on registration is a practical step. This will set at rest the uncertainty and panic among people, mostly senior citizens.

Dharmarajan A K, Thalassery

Shortage of vaccines

Free vaccine for all is a needless burden for the country, as there are many who can afford to pay for it. The government can increase its capacity temporarily with huge vaccination camps and recalling retired medical personnel. But where are the vaccines?

M Balakrishnan, Bengaluru

Women commuters' safety

Despite attacks on women commuters on running trains in the past, the failure of the railways in providing security to them is deplorable (Apr 29). At a time when fewer people opt for rail travel due to the pandemic, miscreants find it easy to attack the vulnerable, especially lone women commuters.

Bijumon P N, Idukki

Whither values?

This is with reference to Ex-teacher booked for harassing girl (Apr 29). Such ugly instances seem to be increasing of late. These are people who are entrusted with the responsibility of inculcating values in their students.

V S Raman, Thanjavur

Collective failure

The Madras HC's strong condemnation of the poll panel was needed (EC tries to get its act together, Apr 29). Worsening the situation, citizens too flouted all safety measures and our collective failure led to this massive outbreak.

Narayani P, Mayiladuthurai

EC just a scapegoat

The harsh condemnation is like flogging the shadow but ignoring the object. Political parties should have had the maturity to conduct the campaigning virtually, but rallies took place amid the pandemic as they did in the US too. And what stopped the judiciary from taking up the issue suo moto earlier?

R Sridharan, Chennai

Can it be implemented?

The decision to ban victory processions after the declaration of Assembly election results in four states and a Union Territory on May 2 is welcome. But it remains to be seen how this is implemented by the EC.

C Ghanshyam, Visakhapatnam

Lack of planning

This is with reference to the article Growth & Need for strategic planning (Apr 29). There is no doubt that the present Covid-19 crisis such as shortage of vaccines and oxygen is due to lack of planning and vision. Moreover, this crisis has vividly taught us the importance of being self-sufficient.

S K Prakash, Chennai

Disregard for rule of law

It is disconcerting to note that even IAS officers are not implementing or obeying court orders (Big babus are not above the law, Apr 22). This kind of contempt of court and blatant disregard for the rule of law in Telangana are unfortunate. Surely, this is not a desirable state of affairs.

Informative and interesting

The article Arey O Samba! Who invented Sambar (Apr 27) was very informative and interesting. The author has lucidly brought out the historical background of Sambar and also its mention in various books and poems.

Delhi HC pulls up Centre for disparity in oxygen supply

Cites examples of Maha & MP, which were allocated more than they wanted, while Delhi got less than it needed; tells it to make amends

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

QUESTIONING the rationale behind giving a few states more oxygen than they had asked for, the Delhi High Court on Thursday pulled up the Centre for not heeding the Delhi government's allocation request.

Pointing out that states like MP and Maharashtra were given more oxygen than they had asked for, a bench of Justices Vipin Sanghi and Rekha Palli told the Centre to either justify the move or make amends.

"We make it clear that by no means are we interested in securing for Delhi more oxygen than is required, and that too at the cost of any State or UT. However, if submissions of the Delhi government and amicus curiae are accepted, it would appear that centre needs to explain this aspect," the court observed.

Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, who was representing the Centre, said, "If there is any extra allocation to MP, it is because of the surge in cases in two of their districts. It is not NDA government versus others. It is the Centre which is working with the states."

Countering this, senior advocate Rahul Mehra appearing for AAP said, "Delhi had sought an urgent order on the oxygen allocation, though its present allocation was 490 metric tonnes, it received only 400 metric tonnes yesterday. This is up from the 300 metric tonnes received last week and without your lordships, we wouldn't have got this much, too."

However, the Centre reiterated that all allotments are made on the basis of calculation by officials. Delhi had placed before the judges a list of demands and allocation made by states. The court said that there appeared to be enough oxygen production in the country, the problem lay in transportation, with the country not having enough cryogenic tankers.

Mehra explained to the bench, "Today we have allocated the 490 MT stock. We are left with none. If we could somehow get 15-20 MT immediately, we can think of setting up distribution centres to facilitate citizens." The government further said, "Several standalone clinics are also in need of oxygen. We would have to divert the oxygen from the hospitals' quota."

At this, the court said, "It looks like the oxygen for the hospitals will have to be reduced for some time to accommodate the individual citizens in home care." Mehra said, "It's a Catch-22 situation. Someone will have to lose out for another to get oxygen."

Tell-tale home isolation norm change places steroids on list

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE latest guidelines by the Centre on home isolation of mild and asymptomatic Covid19 patients have incorporated drugs ivermectin and budesonide (inhaled steroid) and even oral steroids. This seems to be a tacit acknowledgement of the fact that many patients in advanced stages of Covid19 are not able to receive hospital care as these drugs were not prescribed for patients recommended for home isolation in the July 2020 guidelines.

"Inhalational Budesonide (given via inhalers with spacer at a dose of 800 mcg twice daily for 5 to 7 days) to be given if symptoms (fever and/or cough) are persistent beyond 5 days of disease onset," say the guidelines issued by the Health ministry. It adds that while systemic oral steroids are not indicated in mild disease, if symptoms persist beyond 7 days.

In case of falling oxygen saturation or shortness of breath-with oxygen saturation level of less than 94 %, the patient should require hospital admission and seek immediate consultation of their treating physician or surveillance team, according to the advisory.

While asymptomatic cases have been defined as laboratory confirmed cases not experiencing any symptoms and having oxygen saturation at room air of more than 94%, clinically assigned mild cases are patients with upper respiratory tract symptoms along with or without fever but without shortness of breath.

The guidelines recommend warm-water gargles and steam inhalation twice a day for people at home. If fever is not controlled with a dose of paracetamol 650 mg four times a day other drugs like non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drug Naproxen 250 mg twice a day, can be considered on the advice of a doctor.

Mumbai stable, but Maha situation grim

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

MUMBAI seems to have turned the corner, with steady oxygen supply and better recovery rate giving a breathing space to its hard pressed healthcare system. As on Thursday, the city had 8,322 beds available at various hospitals. However, the state is still not out of the woods with its two other major cities – Nagpur and Pune – reeling under case burden.

As per the Brihan Mumbai Municipal Corporation data, the recovery rate in Mumbai is now 87%, the positivity rate is 0.93%, while the doubling rate has jumped to 74 days as against 48 days a few days ago. All these are markers of a healthy trend. According to the BMC data dated April 25, out of a total of 29,903 beds in hospitals, 21,581 beds are occupied. However, the picture across the state is still grim. The worst affected are Nagpur and Pune, with positivity rates of 11.19% and 15.19% respectively.

It is this high positivity rate that has prompted the government to extend the lockdown till May 15, with the existing restrictions continuing. The decision follows a persistent spike in active cases in the range of 60,000-65,000 per day, with the mortality rate rising to 21.42% in April. Pradeep Awate, joint director of health, said that Maharashtra is in the early stages of flattening the Covid 19 curve. "The lockdown should be continued for a few more days. We have to ease the burden off the hospitals. From the first or second week of May, we may see a significant drop in positive cases," he said.

Meanwhile, the Maharashtra Congress on Thursday said it will donate ₹2 crore to the Chief Minister's Relief Fund to contribute towards the free Covid-19 vaccination drive for people in the age group of 18 to 44. Speaking to reporters here, state Revenue Minister Balasaheb Thorat said he will donate a year's salary, while other Congress MLAs will contribute a month's salary.

Travel ban defeats aim of curbing spread: Study

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

BANNING domestic travel as a measure to control the virus spread may prove counterproductive, a study at the University of Chicago has found. Basing their findings on the data from India and five other countries, academics said that depending on duration, the restrictions can lead to more overall infections, especially when there is a large urban-rural migrant population.

The study comes in the backdrop of the state governments once again grappling with the question of whether to tighten travel restrictions as a means to control transmission. The reluctance to go for an all-out ban stems from the lessons learnt when a forced travel ban during the first wave led to large scale confusion. Last year, the hardships faced by migrants, prevented from returning to their villages, were seen as a necessary sacrifice to contain the spread in rural India.

The study says that any ban on a large migrant population from leaving an urban hotspot may result in lose-lose situation. Using detailed data on rural-urban migration, travel ban policies and Covid-19 cases to show this lose-lose outcome occurred in India during the first wave, Dr Anant Sudarshan, South Asia Director of The Energy Policy Institute at the University of Chicago and one of the study authors, said: "The national lockdown in the first wave trapped millions of migrants inside big cities like Mumbai that were fast-growing into coronavirus hotspots. Eventually, people were able to leave, but variations in government policies meant that the length of time they were detained depended on where they wanted to go. In the case of rural districts where people could return quicker -- using the Shramik Special Trains for example -- cases rose modestly at the destination. But for those areas where bans were in effect longer, there was a much more intensive increase in coronavirus, likely because the returning population was now more likely infected, having been trapped in the hotspot longer."

Apart from Mumbai, data from China, Indonesia, the Philippines, South Africa and Kenya were analysed.

Uttarakhand govt suspends Char Dham Yatra this year

VINEET UPADHYAY @Dehradun

UTTARAKHAND government on Thursday decided to suspend the Char Dham Yatra this year in view of the grim Covid 19 situation. However, the portals of the four revered shrines- Kedarnath, Badrinath, Gangotri and Yamunotri will be opened at the pre-determined time for the priests to carry out the rituals. The announcement was made by Chief Minister Tirath Singh Rawat on Thursday.

Ravinath Raman, chief executive officer of Char Dham Devasthanam Board, which manages the Yatra, said, "The situation was discussed in detail and many options were considered, including organising the Yatra symbolically."

Earlier this month, the Uttarakhand High Court had remarked that the Yatra cannot be allowed to become another Kumbh. The court had directed the state government to formulate guidelines for the yatra.

In comparison to year 2019 when more than 38 lakh pilgrims visited the Char Dham of Uttarakhand, numbers came down to 4.2 lakh in 2020 due to Covid 19.

Odisha and Bengal may buck the shortage trend

"ORDERS have been placed, so as and when the stocks come, they will be distributed and vaccination will be done," said Karnataka Chief Secretary P Ravi Kumar.

Tamil Nadu's director of public health Dr T S Selvavinayakam said a high-level committee is working on formulating a plan for the vaccination drive on May 1. The state has issued orders to procure 1.5 crore doses of Covid-19 vaccine. Dr Selvavinayakam said the state has 5.83 lakh doses of Covishield and 1.74 lakh doses of Covaxin.

Flagging the shortage in doses, Punjab Health Minister Balbir Singh Sidhu said, "Vaccine for all may not start on May 1 as we are not getting adequate doses. On Wednesday, we got two lakh doses and earlier, we had received 1.5 lakh doses... If we get at least 10 lakh doses of vaccine, then we can start this programme," he said.

Perhaps the only exceptions are Odisha and West Bengal. Odisha's additional chief secretary (health) P K Mohapatra said the state expects at least one lakh doses from Bharat Biotech in the next few days. "Inoculation will remain suspended on May 1 and 2 due to weekly shutdown. We will roll out vaccination for 18 years plus at Bhubaneswar on May 3 if the expected doses arrive," he added.

BJP-ruled Madhya Pradesh also said it may roll out the programe on May 3 as it expects vaccine doses by then. West Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee said vaccination for those above 18 years will start from May 5. "We will provide vaccines to eligible recipients according to supply from the manufacturers," said an official of the state health department. Meanwhile, the Centre said 2.15 crore people in the 18-44 age group have registered on the CoWIN portal.

IIT-B finds innovative way to generate oxygen

Mumbai: Amid the shortage of medical oxygen for treating Covid-19 patients, the IIT Bombay has come up with an ingenious solution to help address the issue by converting a nitrogen unit into an oxygen generating unit, the institute said on Thursday. The pilot project, which has been tested successfully, relies on a simple tech intervention of converting a Pressure Swing Adsorption nitrogen unit into a PSA oxygen unit. It claimed that initial tests conducted at the IIT-Bombay have shown "promising results". Oxygen can be utilised across the existing hospitals by providing a continuous supply, it said. "It has been done by fine-tuning the existing nitrogen plant and changing the molecular sieves from Carbon to Zeolite," the statement said quoting Prof Milind Atrey, dean (R&D), IITB, who led the project

Hordes flocking Kashmir to see tulips bloom behind case boom

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

WHILE it was the campaign extravaganza that triggered a case surge in poll-bound states, in Jammu and Kashmir, a huge tourist inflow enamoured by the famed Tulip garden led to 20.34% spike in Kashmir and 26% rise in Srinagar between March 25 and April 25.

On the day Asia's biggest Tulip garden in Srinagar was thrown open to public (March 25) after a lockdown-induced hiatus, the Valley registered 131, including Srinagar's 65, fresh cases. The active case tally in the Valley at that time was 1,209, while Srinagar had only 747.

During the one-month period between March 25 and April 25, the Tulip garden registered 2.30 lakh footfalls, including 80,000 outstation tourists. By April 25, when all paid parks, including Tulip garden, were closed, Kashmir's tally had risen from 76,658 to 96,237 cases, registering an addition of 19,579 cases and accounting for 20.34 % of the total cases recorded in the Valley.

Further, the positivity rate in Srinagar rose 26% between March 25 and April 25, with it adding 10,447 fresh cases to its tally in a month. The city recorded its highest addition of 748 cases on April 25. The Valley recorded 82 deaths during the period, of which 41 were from Srinagar district alone.

The doctors and civil society members have attributed the surge in Covid cases to the opening of the gardens. Doctors Association Kashmir president and influenza expert, Dr Nisar-ul-Hassan, said: "The authorities kept the gardens open and thousands thronged the gardens daily and it could have been a factor for the surge in the Valley and the eventual rise in hospitalisation and death, too."

ASSEMBLY ELECTION 2021 DECIDE

Sensing imminent defeat, the TMC is desperately targeting the Election Commission linking the coronavirus surge with the multiphase polling which was required to ensure free and fair voting – Dilip Ghosh, BJP leader

76% polling in final phase, BJP candidate attacked

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

STRAY incidents of violence between supporters of the BJP and Trinamool Congress marked the eighth and the final phase of Assembly elections in West Bengal on Thursday.

The state recorded 76.07 % voter turnout till 5 pm.

Anirban Ganguly, BJP's candidate in Bolpur in Birbhum district was chased away when he went to Ilambazar area. Villagers, armed with sticks and bricks, were seen running after him. His vehicle was vandalized. "I went to Ilambazar after receiving complaints that TMC's goons were not allowing our supporters to go to the polling booths,'' said Ganguly.

TMC candidate for the constituency and state minister Chandranath Sinha rubbished Ganguly's allegations and said villagers drove him away as the BJP candidate was trying to influence the voters.

"Wherever he (Ganguly) went, people came out in protest as he tried influencing them. He is the one who actually attempted to disrupt peace. Polling, otherwise, has been very peaceful in Bolpur," Sinha said.

In Kolkata's Beleghata area, supporters of the TMC and the BJP attacked each other with bricks and glass bottles. Three persons were injured. Violence were also reported from other parts of the state.

In Jalangi constituency in Murshidabad, clashes broke out between the supporters of TMC and CPI(M). Six TMC supporters, including three women, were injured when CPI(M) supporters allegedly opened fire. Clashes broke out between the supporters of the TMC on one side and those of CPI(M) and the Indian Secular Force (ISF) on the other. Three people were injured in the clashes.

In Hariharpara constituency, Murshidabad, Congress supporters alleged that the activists of the ruling party attacked their supporters when they were going to the polling booths.

Voting was held in 11,860 polling stations of the 35 constituencies—11 each in Murshidabad and Birbhum, six in Malda, and seven in north Kolkata, the sources said. The poll panel deployed 641 companies of central forces in the final phase.

Mamata calls urgent meet with candidates

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

TRINAMOOL Congress supremo Mamata Banerjee has convened an urgent virtual meeting on Friday with the party's candidates who contested in the Assembly elections. She is expected to issue a slew of instructions to be followed by the candidates during the process of the counting on May 2, a senior leader of the TMC said.

The candidates were also asked to bring their counting agents to the virtual meeting.

"She (Mamata) is confident about her party's absolute majority in the Assembly elections. She has a strong suspicion that the BJP will use all its tricks and unfair means during the counting process. Since she has attacked the Election Commission on several occasions, the chief minister does not have faith in the Commission. She will issue specific guidelines asking candidates and counting agents to follow it word-by-word,'' the TMC leader said.

"Mamata Banerjee will warn the candidates about the possible tricks that the BJP might adopt during the process of counting," another TMC leader said. "Our party's internal report has confirmed that the TMC will stay in power with a comfortable margin. Since the BJP engaged its entire artillery to wrest West Bengal, they will definitely try to achieve their goal by adopting unfair means,'' he said.

Mamata carried out an intense poll campaign across West Bengal against BJP heavyweights, including Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Union Home minister Amit Shah and the party's national president JP Nadda, who addressed a series of rallies and attended several roadshows over the past one month.

Madhya Pradesh loses 42 cops to Covid in April

More police personnel die of virus this month than all of last year

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

OF the 44 Madhya Pradesh police personnel who lost their lives to Covid-19, 42 died in April alone. The month has seen a dramatic rise in the number of Covid cases in the state. About 30 of the 42 who died this month had received at least one dose of a Covid vaccine.

Most of the deaths have occurred in the 50-60 age-group. Some of those who died are between 40 and 49 years of age. An assistant sub-inspector aged 38 was the youngest among the 42 cops who died this month.

Compared to the last year, the current year has seen a steep rise in Covid-19 deaths among police personnel. If 35 cops died of the infection between March and December 2020, 44 have died so far this year. In fact, more cops have died of Covid this month than all of last year. This is despite the fact that about 90% of the state's police force has been vaccinated against the deadly infection.

According to Madhya Pradesh DGP Vivek Johri, who spoke to The New Indian Express, most of the cops who have died had either obtained the first dose or both the doses of the Covid vaccines. "Most of those who died had co-morbidities like blood pressure, heart ailments and diabetes," the DGP said.

Sharp rise in deaths among Bihar's doctors, teachers

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ Patna

APRIL has seen a dramatic rise in the number of Covid deaths among Bihar's police personnel, doctors, teachers, professors, bureaucrats, journalists, and public employees.

According to official sources, as many as 13 police personnel, 75 school teachers and professors, 14 doctors, 3 journalists, and half a dozen officers of both the Indian Administrative Services and the Bihar Administrative Services (BAS) have lost their lives to the deadly virus.

More than 202 police personnel have tested positive this month. What's concerning is that about 90% of them were administered both doses of the Covid vaccine.

Around 600 healthcare professionals, including doctors and paramedic staff, have tested positive. Fourteen of them have died, and almost all of them had taken the second dose of the vaccine.

Many senior IAS officers—Vijay Ranjan (Director of Panchayat Raj), Ravi Shanker Chaudhary (Additional secretary in health department), and Pankaj Kumar Singh-(Director of Industries Department)—were among those who died. More civil servants have tested positive and are under quarantine

As per the data, 60 teachers and 15 professors have died. In the Nalanda district, the District Education Officer (DEO) and 15 teachers died in the last two weeks. Alarmed over the deaths, the Nalanda teachers union has written a letter to the Human Rights Commission seeking its intervention to get the schools closed.

Centre says Forest Research Institute not a recognised institution

VINEETH UPHADYAY @ Dehradun

DEPARTMENT of Personnel and Training (DoPT) of the Central Government, headed by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, in its affidavit submitted before the Uttarakhand High Court, said that Forest Research Institute (FRI), Dehradun is not a recognised institution.

Notably, this is the same institution where the Prime Minister himself performed asanas with more than 50,000 yoga enthusiasts in June 2018 on International Yoga Day.

The DoPT filed an affidavit in the high court in response to a notice issued by the court in February this year while hearing a petition filed by Magsaysay Award recipient India Forest Services (IFS) officer Sanjiv Chaturvedi. He had alleged irregularities by the Center in the selection process for a member of the Staff Selection Commission. The affidavit dated April 28, 2021, filed by the secretary, DoPT said, "The petitioner (Chaturvedi) did not possess the educational qualification of a post-graduate degree from a recognized university or institution."

Chaturvedi had applied for the post of member of Staff Selection Commission, but his candidature was declined on various grounds. One of the main areas of dispute was the fulfillment of eligibility criteria regarding the post-graduate degree from a recognized institution. The officer had produced a notification from 1998 in which the Forest Research Institute had notified that probation course/training of Indian Forest Services officers at Indira Gandhi National Forest Academy (IGNFA), Dehradun has to be treated as MSc Forestry.

Commenting on the issue, Sudarshan Goel, senior advocate of the Supreme Court said, "The reply filed by the central government regarding Forest Research Institute not being a recognised institution is simply scandalous and criminal. Now we are going to file perjury application before the High Court."

America rising anew: Biden to US Congress

Proposes $1.8 trillion investment in children, families & edu to help rebuild an economy devastated by coronavirus

WASHINGTON

US PRESIDENT Joe Biden, in his maiden address to a joint session of Congress at the US Capitol here on Wednesday, said, "America is rising anew", as he identified the deadly Covid-19 pandemic and climate change as the two major global challenges.

Biden said 100 days since he took the oath of office on January 20 and inherited the worst pandemic in a century and the worst economic crisis in a decade, America is on the move again, turning peril into possibility, crisis into opportunity and setback into strength.

"America is rising anew, choosing hope over fear, truth over lies, and light over darkness. After 100 days of rescue and renewal, America is ready for a take-off. We are working again, dreaming again, discovering again and leading the world again," Biden said. "In my conversations with world leaders, the comment I hear is: 'we see that America is back, but for how long?' Biden said on Wednesday night.

"We have to show not just that we are back, but are here to stay. And that we aren't going it alone, we're going to be leading with our allies. No nation can deal with all the crises of our time alone," he said.

Biden touted the success of his administration's Covid vaccine rollout and urged everyone to get vaccinated.

He also said climate crisis is not America's fight alone, but a global one as he asserted that he pushed for the US to meet its international obligations to slow the impact of climate change. He said the US accounts for less than 15 per cent of carbon emissions while the rest of the world accounts for 85 per cent. "That's why I kept my commitment to rejoin the Paris Climate Agreement on my first day in office," he said. "I kept my commitment to convene a climate summit in the US of all the major economies — China, Russia, India, European Union," Biden said.

"I wanted the world to see that there is consensus that we are at an inflection point in history. The consensus is that if we act, we can save the planet and create millions of jobs and economic growth and opportunity to raise the standard of living for everyone in the world. The investments I've proposed tonight also advance a foreign policy that benefits the middle class,' he said.

That means making sure every nation plays by the same rules in the global economy, including China, Biden said.

"In my discussion with President Xi Jinping, I told him that we welcome the competition and are not looking for conflict. But I made it absolutely clear that I will defend American interests across the board,' he said. He said it is time to grow the US economy from the bottom and the middle. Biden proposed a $1.8 trillion investment in children, families and education to help rebuild an economy devastated by the virus and compete with rising global competitors. On Russia, he said he made it very clear to his Russian counterpart Vladimir Putin that while the US doesn't seek escalation, their actions have consequences. PTI

When asked about the significance of two women sitting behind the President for the address, Harris, 56, replied, "Normal," to reporters in the Capitol. Asked her view, Pelosi, 81, told MSNBC, "It's pretty exciting. And it's wonderful to make history. It's about time." -- PTI

PREZ URGES CONG TO PASS IMMIGRATION REFORM

Washington: Joe Biden has urged Congress to pass the comprehensive immigration reform, which proposes major overhauls, including granting legal status and a path to citizenship to tens of thousands of undocumented immigrants and reduce the time that family members must wait outside the US for green cards. "Immigrants have done so much for America during the pandemic as they have throughout our history. The country supports immigration reform. Congress should act," Biden said. PTI

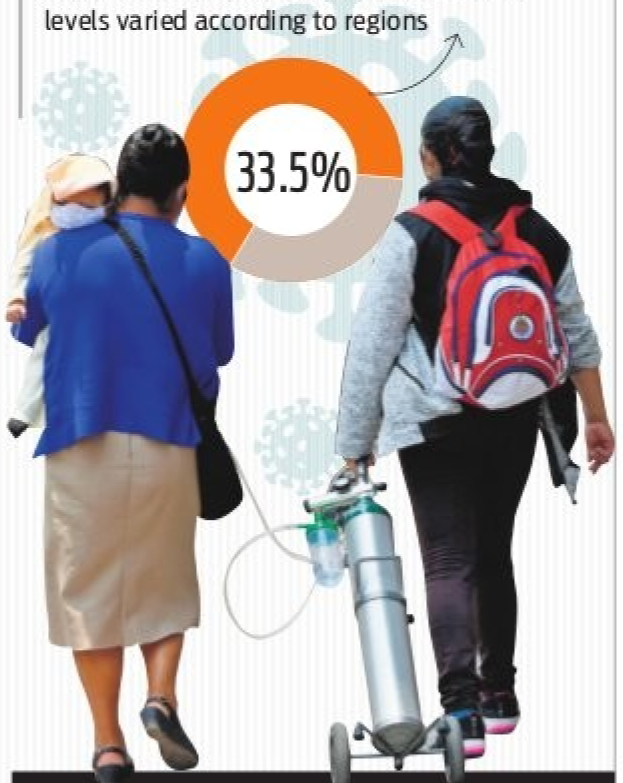
'WHITE SUPREMACY IS TERRORISM'

Washington: In his address, Joe Biden identified white supremacy as a domestic terror threat that America must remain vigilant against. While discussing his decision to withdraw American troops from Afghanistan, Biden noted global terror networks have moved beyond the country and that white supremacists posed a bigger threat than foreign actors. "We won't ignore what our intelligence agencies have determined to be the most lethal terrorist threat to our homeland today: White supremacy is terrorism," Biden said. PTI

One-third of Mexicans show exposure to coronavirus: Study

As many as one-third of Mexicans may have been exposed to the coronavirus by the end of 2020, according to a study of random blood samples taken between February and December

Antibodies were found in 33.5% of samples from blood banks and medical laboratory tests in Mexico unrelated to Covid-19. The levels varied according to regions



40.7%

Exposure rate in the northwest, from Baja California to Chihuahua, which is the highest. The lowest was in western states, at 26.6%. In general, areas along the US border had higher rates.

Authorities have suggested that with almost 350k virus-related deaths, and about 40 million Mexicans exposed to the virus, the mortality rate could be just under 1 percent.

REPORT BY AP
PICS BY AFP

The study suggested about 86% of those infected had developed effective antibodies, but that around 14% hadn't and could be re-infected.

22.6% million vaccine doses received

17 million shots given

12 million people covered (some have received two doses)

126 million: Population of Mexico

216k test-confirmed deaths related to Covid-19

Mexican authorities also announced they detected three cases of the South African variant on Tuesday. The UK and Brazilian variants have already been detected, but Mexico does relatively little variant testing.

> Mexico will start getting Pfizer vaccine from US plants, rather than from plants in Europe. That will make logistics of importing the shots easier

> The exposure rate may have risen by 10 percentage points on average nationwide following steep surge in cases in January. However, even if the rate is 43.5%, Mexico is still far from herd immunity

Dutch govt disables coronavirus warning app over data leak fears

THE HAGUE

THE Dutch government has temporarily disabled its coronavirus warning app amid data privacy concerns for people who have the app installed on their Android phones.

Health Minister Hugo de Jonge announced late Wednesday that the CoronaMelder app will stop sending warnings for 48 hours while the government checks if users' data is secure.

The Dutch app uses 'exposure notification' technology developed by Google and Apple that generates random codes that can be exchanged by phones whose users are close to one another for long enough to possibly transmit the virus. The health ministry says it is possible for other apps on Android phones to access data about whether its users had been infected and its contacts with other phones. "The privacy of users is always a priority. While Google must solve the problem, I can limit the consequences. Hence, the decision," De Jonge said.

According to the ministry, Google informed the government on Wednesday it has fixed the issue. The government halted messages from the app for 48 hours to check if the leak has been fixed. In a statement to AP, Google said it has been 'rolling out a fix for an issue where random Bluetooth identifiers used by the Exposure Notification framework on Android were temporarily accessible to a limited number of pre-installed applications.' AP

Pak Army biggest land grabber: Lahore HC

In a rare rebuke of Pakistan's Army, the Lahore High Court has called it the country's "biggest land grabber". Chief Justice Mohammad Qasim Khan, during the hearing of a land grabbing case on Wednesday, said he does not want to say anything wrong about the Army, but the way it occupies people's properties is nothing but land grabbing. "The Army seems to have become the biggest land grabber in the country," he said. "The Army uniform is for service, not to rule as a king," he said while hearing petitions of three citizens seeking an order against the Defence Housing Authority, which is under the Army, to not disturb lawful possession of the land they obtained on lease from the Evacuee Trust Property Board. Camps with 4L refugees to be closed next year

NAIROBI

KENYA wants two refugee camps which hosts hundreds of thousands of refugees from war-torn countries closed by June 30 next year, the government said on Thursday. The announcement followed a meeting between Kenyan President Uhuru Kenyatta and UN High Commissioner for Refugees Filippo Grandi about the status of the two camps where 4,33,765 refugees and asylum-seekers, most of them from Somalia and South Sudan, live.

"A joint team comprising officials from the Kenyan government and the (UN Refugee) agency will be formed to finalise and implement a road map on the next steps towards a humane management of refugees in the camps," a statement said. Earlier this month, UNHCR presented Kenya with what it said were 'sustainable rights-based measures' for finding solutions for the refugees' long-standing displacement. This followed a two-week ultimatum given by Kenya's interior minister for the agency to come up with a roadmap to close the camps. The government's push to shut down the camps sooner was blocked when the High Court issued temporary order after former presidential aspirant Peter Gichira filed a legal challenge seeking to block closure of the two camps. AP

German govt asked to set post-2030 climate goals

BERLIN

GERMANY'S top court ruled Thursday that the country's government has to set clear goals for reducing greenhouse gas emissions after 2030, arguing that current legislation doesn't go far enough in ensuring that climate change is limited to acceptable levels.

Several individuals from Germany and elsewhere, backed by environmental groups, had filed four complaints to the Constitutional Court arguing that their rights were impinged by the lack of sufficient targets beyond the next decade.

GLOBAL WARMING

Germany, like other European Union countries, aims to cut emissions by 55 per cent by 2030 compared with 1990 levels. Legislation passed in 2019 set specific targets for sectors such as housing and transport for that period, but not for the long-term goal of cutting emissions to net zero' by 2050.

"The regulations irreversibly pushed a very high burden of emissions reduction into the period after 2030," judges said in their ruling. They cited the Paris accord goal of keeping global warming well below 2 degrees Celsius (3.6 Fahrenheit), ideally 1.5 C (2.7 F) by the end of the century compared with pre-industrial times. The court ordered the government to come up with new targets from 2030 onward by the end of next year.

Lawyer Felix Ekardt, who brought one of the cases, said the verdict was 'groundbreaking' for Germany. "Germany's climate policy will need to be massively adjusted," he said.

Climate campaigners expressed delight at the verdict.

"It's an incredibly good day for hundreds of thousands of young people," said climate activist Luisa Neubauer, one of the plaintiffs.

Germany is holding federal elections in September. The environmentalist Greens party, which has called for tougher emissions reduction targets, is leading in several polls.

The cases in Germany are part of a global effort by climate activists to force governments to take urgent action to tackle climate change. Among the first successful cases was brought in the Netherlands, where the Supreme Court two years ago confirmed a ruling requiring the government to cut emissions by at least 25% by the end of 2020 from benchmark 1990 levels. AP

Pope issues new anti-corruption norms for Vatican managers

ROME

POPE Francis issued tough new anti-corruption regulations on Thursday that require Vatican cardinals and managers to periodically declare they are investing only in funds consistent with Catholic doctrine and aren't under criminal investigation or stashing money in tax havens. A new law also contains a prohibition that, if broadly applied, would amount to a revolution in curial culture: It prohibits any Vatican employee from receiving work-related gifts with a value of over 40 euros ($48).

While 'work-related' will likely be open to interpretation, the prohibition is aimed at cutting down on the sometimes lavish gifts Vatican officials are accustomed to receiving.

The pope's crackdown comes as Vatican prosecutors are nearly two years into a corruption investigation involving the Vatican's investment in a London real estate venture. Francis has preached about cleaning up corruption in the Vatican for eight years, but the new law marks his biggest step yet to ensure his own cardinals and managers are clean. AP

No GST Council meeting until after poll results

Despite multiple state government requests, sources say meet unlikely before end of May

ANURADHA SHUKLA @New Delhi

PEOPLE will have to keep on paying high Goods and Services Tax (GST) on essential medicines, PPE kits, ventilators, etc, since the Union finance ministry has ruled out any emergency GST Council meeting until well after the poll results for five major states are announced. This, despite multiple requests from states such as Chhattisgarh and Maharashtra to hold an urgent GST Council meeting to reduce GST rates on essentials used in Covid treatment.

While the central government has reduced customs duty on such items recently, some attract high GST rates—in some cases, as high as 18 per cent.

However, with election results awaited for five states, the finance ministry is in no mood to hold any meeting until the end of May or the first week of June. "We got the request, but the GST meeting has to wait. We cannot hold GST meeting right now before new governments are elected in the states. There is a system to hold meetings," a senior official in the finance ministry told this publication.

It is important to note that the GST Council, chaired by finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman, has not met since October 2020. During that meeting, it had met to discuss raising GST compensation for states in light of the hit on revenues arising from the pandemic. It had decided to meet again durins the month, but that meeting was later postponed and hasn't been held yet.

Plea filed in Supreme Court

A plea has been filed before the SC seeking a GST exemption for Covid-19 drugs, including Remdesivir, Tocilizumab, Favipiravir, and medical gear

Meanwhile, a plea has been filed before the Supreme Court seeking an exemption from GST for Covid-19 drugs, including Remdesivir, Tocilizumab, Favipiravir, and medical equipment used for Covid-19 care.

The plea, filed by NGO Public Policy Advocates, says: "The Act empowers the Central Government to exempt goods or services, or both, from the tax leviable... it is necessary in the public interest".

Given the unprecedented demand for these medicines and equipment on the market currently, there are already widespread reports of black marketing, and hoarding of such drugs and other medical equipment. India reported 3,79,257 new Covid-19 infections and 3,645 new deaths on Thursday, with total active cases in the country crossing 18 million.

HUL Q4 net profit up 41%, revenues jump 35%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

HINDUSTAN Unilever, India's largest fast-moving consumer goods maker, reported robust earnings for the fourth quarter, net profit rising 41 per cent to ₹2,143 crore compared to a year ago, and revenues jumping 35 per cent to ₹12,132 crore.

According to the company, the quarter saw its volumes grow at 16 per cent driven by robust growth across segments. The health, hygiene, and nutrition segment, forming 80 per cent of its business, recorded double-digit growth for the third consecutive quarter, while out-of-home and discretionary categories improved sequentially. "Despite challenging times, in FY21 our business ecosystem has withstood the disruption and demonstrated agility and resilience across the value chain," said HUL chairman and managing director Sanjiv Mehta.

On the impact of the ongoing second Covid wave, Mehta said, "As far as underlying offtake and consumption is concerned it is too early to comment on impact... Supply chains are running, even in places where there is localised lockdown, stores are opening." He further observed that rural growth has held up for now. However, some demand impact is likely due to mobility-related issues in the last two weeks.

According to company officials, HUL has boosted its supply chain capacity by 30 per cent over the last one year—mostly done by adding on 30 new third-party contract manufacturers to de-risk manufacturing from local disruptions. The firm's Shikhar app, which allows retailers to order directly from the company,has now crossed five lakh outlets.

At the operating level, HUL reported a 44.9 per cent year-on-year growth in EBITDA (earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation) at ₹3,043 crore and a 170 bps margin expansion.

Category-wise, home care revenues grew 15 per cent; the beauty & personal care business registered a healthy 20 per cent growth; and the food & refreshments segment grew at 36 per cent during the quarter under review.

As far as underlying offtake and consumption is concerned, it is too early to comment... Supply chains are running, even in places where there is localised lockdown, stores are opening—Sanjiv Mehta, CMD, HUL

BPCL has underperformed the Nifty by ~45% over the past year. Concerns have largely been related to poor refining margins and a drop in refining throughput and sales (due to COVID-related demand destruction). However, Mar'21 saw a 5% YoY increase in demand for petroleum products – after fourteen consecutive months of decline.

SEBI likely to penalise bourses for technical glitches

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

MARKET regulator Securities and Exchanges Board of India (SEBI) is considering heavy penalties on the management of stock exchanges in the case of any technical glitch.

"The Board (SEBI) is considering heavy penalties for management of exchanges for any technical glitch to prevent such things from happening in the future," a senior official said. The National Stock Exchange had faced a technical glitch on February 24, causing monetary losses to several investors.

Later, an enquiry was ordered into the event and even Finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman had pointed out that the stoppage of trading, a result of the glitch, had been a serious embarrassment.

Earlier, SEBI imposed penalties of ₹12 lakh and ₹6 lakh on CPR Capital Services Ltd and PRB Securities Pvt Ltd, respectively for multiple violations with respect to using National Stock Exchange (NSE)'s co-location (Colo) facility.

Meanwhile, Thursday also saw SEBI announcing a new disclosure framework for mutual funds focused on cutting down the information overload on investors. According to the regulator, mutual funds will have to make a disclosure about the scheme's risk-o-meter, performance, and portfolio details to investors only for plans in which they have invested.

This is aimed at enhancing the quality of disclosure with respect to risk and performance, and portfolio of the schemes, without creating information overload, SEBI said. The new framework will be applicable with effect from June 1, 2021, the regulator pointed out.

SBI's Business Activity Index shows sharp fall as restrictions begin biting

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

STATE Bank of India's Business Activity Index has now dipped to a new low of 75.7—a level it had not tested after August 2020.

According to the SBI's economic research report 'Ecowrap', the index level, which is now 24.3 per cent down from its pre pandemic levels, indicates that the disruption caused by restrictions and lockdowns across different states to curb the spread of the virus is now having a significant impact on India's economic activity. Last week, in a special research report, SBI's Economic Research Department had said that the reading for the week ended April 19, 2021 was at 86.3, the lowest in five months.

All indicators, except for labour participation and electricity consumption, have fallen significantly during the month of April. One promising indicator is the labour participation data, which indicates that labour market disruptions are still manageable unlike during the first wave.

The report observed that the seven-day moving average of daily tests and daily new cases in India are both increasing rapidly. However, from late December 2020 to mid-February 2021 India's daily new cases had reduced significantly, but so had daily tests.

"Thus it should not be the case that India becomes complacent again and reduces its tests just to show a lower infection rate as this could lead to widespread increase in infection," warned Soumya Kanti Ghosh, Group Chief Economic Adviser, SBI.

Tata group gets CCI nod for BigBasket deal

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

THE Tata group's foray into the India's growing e-grocery market has been sealed with the Competition Commission of India on Thursday giving its nod to its $1 billion acquisition of BigBasket. In a statement, the CCI said that it has given its approval for Tata Digital, a subsidiary of Tata Sons, acquiring 63.4 per cent acquisition of Supermarket Grocery Supplies Ltd, a B2B entity that owns online retail firm BigBasket.

The deal, sources say, values BigBasket at over $1.8 billion and is likely to provide an exit to both majority and minority stake holders in the internet company, such as Chinese internet giant Alibaba.

Tata Digital is also in the process of taking on the likes of Vijay Shekhar Sharma's Paytm in developing India's first 'super-app' and is already in talks to acquire e-pharma start-up 1mg. The other major player in the super-app race is Mukesh Ambani's Reliance, which forayed into the e-grocery market with the launch of the Jio app last year and has also acquired online pharma firm NetMeds.

Tata already has a presence in the online fashion and electronics segments with its TataCliq platform. Industry analysts said that the acquisition of Big Basket will further boost the conglomerate's e-commerce ambitions.

US TRIP IN MIRABAI'S MIND

Weightlifter, who set a world-record en route Tokyo qualification, optimistic of her chances

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

LAST year, India's champion weightlifter Mirabai Chanu went to the United States to work with physiotherapist Dr. Aaron Horschig to get rid of a recurring lower back issue and a shoulder injury. The two-month training-cum-rehabilitation camp paid dividends as the 26-year-old lifter from Manipur recently created a world record in clean and jerk at the Asian Championships.

With the Tokyo Olympics nearing, the 49kg lifter once again wants to train in the USA but the ever-evolving situation due to Covid-19 might means it may not work out. "We have requested the Target Olympic Podium Scheme and Indian Weightlifting Federation (IWLF). It's not confirmed yet due to the pandemic but I want to go if the situation remains under control," said the former world champion during a media interaction organised by the Sports Authority of India on Thursday.

The IWLF secretary-general Sahdev Yadav also confirmed the plan and said, "We are doing our best to ensure she goes to the USA for training before the Games."

The first wave of the pandemic meant the weightlifter remained confined to her room at NIS Patiala for months. However, she found ways to keep herself motivated and stay in good shape. But nervousness crept in when she took part in her first international event after more than a year. She couldn't lift 85kg in the first two attempts in snatch at the continental event. "I was nervous, that's why I could not do better in snatch, but I was determined to bounce back in clean and jerk and I did that not only to win bronze but also set a world record."

Failure at the 2016 Rio Olympics broke her down but coach Vijay Sharma along with SAI psychologist kept her motivated. "I started to think how I could fail after putting in such efforts. But the coach and SAI psychologist asked me to remain focused. They asked me to forget failures and concentrate on upcoming events. That worked for me."

She also admitted that she has changed a lot since the Rio Games. "I was not very good at the clean and jerk at that time but we have worked on it now. I will also try to improve in snatch. I feel confident now. I am very optimistic of my chances in Tokyo. I will work hard to ensure I win a medal in Tokyo, which I failed to do in Rio."

She is one of the brightest medal prospects for the country in the Olympics and sometimes people's expectations can bog down an athlete. Mirabai, however, said she tries not to feel that pressure. "It happens but I try not to take that undue pressure on me. We train every day and do the same thing in events. So there is nothing new and I try to do the same. I always convince myself that I have to do only six lifts in competitions like training."

With North Korea withdrawing from the Games, Mirabai's main opponent in the quadrennial event is China. And she seems ready for it. "When they (Chinese lifters) can do it, why can't I. I will give my best," she signed off.

Giving the dead a dignified closure

Volunteers performing last rites to the Covid victims | EXPRESS

MEET Mohammed Ali Jinna, the man responsible for giving the dead a dignified closure. After his NGO, Pasi Illa Thamilaham, performed the last rites of over 40 Covid-19 victims during the first wave of the pandemic, Jinna is once again at it, reprising what he did last year.

This time, however, Jinna has decided to purchase a hearse van and an ambulance to help people in this time of need. He arrived at this decision after realising that some of the kith and kin of the people who passed away weren't able to hire hearse vans as there were very few of the available in all 10 blocks of Tenkasi district.

"We found that the patients family had to pay a lot of money to get a private ambulance to take infected relative to the hospital. The availability of government vehicles is worrying. We have decided to purchase an ambulance to help such people." Apart from the ambulance, he added a hearse van to his wishlist. But with both of them costing a big sum, he turned his attention towards crowdfunding.

With a seed money of ₹10,000, Jinna is now on his toes to raise ₹4.5 lakh to purchase a second-hand ambulance. "So far we have raised ₹35,000. I hope we will achieve our goal in the coming weeks," he said.

The organisation, with the help of 60 volunteers, also gave food to 1500 homeless people as well as supplied groceries to many families during the first wave of the pandemic. "Even the family members were afraid to touch the remains of their loved ones but the volunteers took it upon themselves to ensure that the funeral takes place according to the rituals of the religion of the victims. They did this in Tenkasi, Sankarankovil, Surandai, Thiruvengadam and a few other places in the district. In Indra Nagar near Courtallam, they performed the last rites for three Covid victims, including a retired government official. They did not charge anyone for their services and arranged hearse vans, ambulances and PPE kits with the help of some sponsors," said Rahman, a resident of Indra Nagar.

The NGO is also running an Emergency Care and Recovery Centre on the campus of the Government Hospital in Shengottai for people having mental health issues apart from running a night shelter for the homeless in Tirunelveli.

Riyad Mahrez breached PSG's wall with a curling free-kick at Parc des Princes | AFP

MANCHESTER City are in pole position to reach the Champions League final after coming from behind to beat Paris Saint-Germain 2-1 away in the first leg of their blockbuster semifinal on Wednesday, with Riyad Mahrez curling in the winner from a free-kick.

Marquinhos had powered in a header to give PSG an early lead and the deserved advantage at half-time at the Parc des Princes. However, City skipper Kevin De Bruyne's cross dropped in to pull City level just after the hour and Mahrez beat Keylor Navas from a 71st-minute free-kick to complete the turnaround, giving Pep Guardiola's side the advantage going into next Tuesday's return in Manchester.

"The last 10 minutes of the first half was good and the second half was excellent in every department. We scored two goals away which is so important, but we have a hard job to do in six days," Guardiola said. "In general, so satisfied for the performance but it is halfway. We still have 90 more minutes to beat them and PSG is a team where anything can happen."

After starting so well, PSG lost their way after half-time and had Idrissa Gana Gueye sent off in the 77th minute.

10 No of wins for City in CL this season, the most for a English side since 03/04.

01 No of shots attempted by PSG in the second half, their lowest since 2016.

RESULT: Paris Saint-Germain 1 (Marquinhos 15) Manchester City (ENG) 2 (De Bruyne 64, Mahrez 71)

SAI issues fresh rules to train

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

BEARING in mind the raging coronavirus situation across the country, the Sports Authority of India (SAI) has announced that all Olympic-bound athletes will be allowed to train even during quarantine period in a controlled environment. It is mandatory for those returning to SAI centres after a break to stay in quarantine. The SAI also said that leave for Olympic-bound athletes will be granted only as an exception. This call has been taken to curb the spread of virus as many athletes have got infected while travelling.

Returnees, including athletes and coaches, will be part of small group whenever it's possible. The group will remain isolated from the rest of the people at the camp until the quarantine period is over.

Chhetri gives handle to amplify SOS calls

ASHIM SUNAM @Bengaluru

INDIA football captain Sunil Chhetri understands the nature of the pandemic first hand after having tested positive for Covid-19 last month. He knows the struggles involved. The situation has only gotten worse in India in the last month, with the country breaking unwanted records.

To help people tide over the crisis, a majority of India's twitterati have turned their Twitter into a sort of SOS platform, seeking and providing real-time leads for beds, oxygen, home-cooked food among others. And the Bengaluru FC captain wants to make his contribution as well.

He is providing access to his Twitter account to 'real-life captains', who are doing some amazing work, helping in the transmission of information. "Guys, we all need to participate. No matter who you are, help in whichever way you can. Among all these people, there are some real-life captains who are doing some extraordinary work, phenomenal work. You give me hope. You give me a lot of motivation. And I want to join," Chhetri said in a Twitter video.

"I want to give the access of my Twitter account to few of these captains so that their important information can be amplified and can reach as many as possible. Guys, I'm on your team."

So, how is this a significant contribution? Most of the people amplifying leads do not a big social media presence. But Chhettri, who has 1.6 million followers, could potentially reach a lot more people. So verified information from his account can reach out to more. He also said that the country is going through difficlt times. "Our country is going through difficult times. The pain, suffering, loss all around us is depressing and tragic."

COVID RED LIST

BAI working to resolve travel restriction issues for Olympic qualifiers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

WITH travel restrictions being imposed on Indians by many countries, the Nationals Sports Federations (NSFs) and athletes in the country have a foggy road ahead. With the crucial Olympic qualifiers/exposure tours coming up, the NSFs and the athletes have had to do plan their trip well in advance. Take the case of badminton. With some of the star shuttlers like Kidambi Srikanth and Saina Nehwal yet to confirm their qualification for the Tokyo Olympics, it goes without saying the remaining qualifiers has become of prime importance.

The Badminton Association of India, who were forced to cancel India Open recently after consultation with BWF, are leaving no stone unturned to ensure that they can ensure the likes of Sindhu can be part of upcoming Olympic qualifiers in Malaysia and Singapore.

"Considering the current travel restrictions, the BAI has written to the respective associations of Malaysia and Singapore for a clarity on what will be the exact regulations that will be applied on Indian shuttlers while they arrive in these respective countries," the BAI said.

Shuttlers' first assignment is Malaysia Open from May 25 to 30. BAI said that the shuttlers will have to reach Malaysia on May 10 and serve a 14-day mandatory quarantine in order to be eligible for the World Tour Super 750 tournament in Kuala Lumpur. As per current guidelines, if any Indian wants to enter Singapore (Singapore Open from June 1-6), they have to either be in quarantine in a foreign country for 14 days before they are allowed to enter the island nation or they can serve a mandatory 14-day quarantine in Singapore itself.

"We have also reached out to Malaysian federation to understand if there are any updated quarantine rules that will be imposed on Indian players. Both the member associations and BWF are cooperating and we are in constant touch," the BAI added.

BAI revealed that they have already submitted the travel documents of Olympic-bound players and officials for visa processing. "Though there is a ban on the issue of visa for Indians except for sports related travel activities, visa is available on certain terms and conditions. We are in touch with the member associations of Malaysia & Singapore for the necessary documentations."

If they do manage to procure the visa, it's unlikely the Indians will get direct flights. BAI has taken that into consideration. "We have checked for via routes and the alternatives are either from Sri Lanka or from Doha and Indian shuttlers are most likely to travel via Qatar."

Sensing travel bans, Goa sends foreign players home

MARTIN JOSEPH @Kochi

IN order to avoid their foreign players from getting locked out of their home countries and stranded in India, FC Goa requested their overseas players and staff to leave with immediate effect. The players left the country on Thursday one after the other.

Goa went under lockdown from Thursday till next Monday amidst the rising number of covid cases in the state.

This meant that the team were without the services of head coach Juan Ferrando, captain Edu Bedia, striker Jorge Ortiz and defender Ivan Gonzalez, who are all from Spain, for their final Group E fixture against Al Wahda on Thursday.

Their conditioning coach Javi Gonzalez, who is also from Spain, also left. Besides them, defender James Donachie, who hails from Australia, also departed.

This meant that the club competed their final group game against Al-Wahda with an all Indian contingent with assistant coach Clifford Miranda in charge. The AFC Champions League Group E matches have been underway in Goa since mid-April. "FC Goa would like to inform that the club's foreign contingent including the head coach and foreign staff have been advised to travel back home immediately. This comes as a pre-emptive measure in view of recent policies being taken by European and other countries in regards to travellers from India as the nation battles the second wave of Covid-19 which has engulfed the country," a statement from the club read.

Meanwhile, Al Wahda are expected to fly out by a chartered flight while Persepolis and Al-Rayyan will also leave the country by Friday morning. The Group E matches of the Champions League drew to a close on Thursday with FC Goa failing to qualify from the group stage.

While the game against Al-Wahda was an inconsequential tie, fielding an all Indian team was an unusual situation brought about by the prevailing conditions.

"While the AFC Champions League remains an important competition for FC Goa, the club management felt that the well being of the players to be its first and foremost responsibility," the statement further read.

Head coach Ferrando, who had even tested positive for Covid-19 a month back, said he had a memorable time in India during his time with the club after taking charge at the start of the season. "I was told that FC Goa foreign players and technical staff must leave the country without delay as due to the current situation many countries were cancelling flights from India. Covid has forced us to leave what has been our home for 8 months, but we are all taking with us and in our memories many good moments from this season," coach Ferrando wrote on social media.

Ashleigh Barty of Australia returns the ball to US' Shelby Rogers in Madrid | AP

ASHLEIGH Barty eased past Shelby Rogers on Thursday in the first round of the Madrid Open as the World No 1 prepares to try to reclaim her French Open title in Paris next month.

Barty enjoyed a comfortable 6-2, 6-1 victory over Rogers to book her place in round two, where she will face either Su-Wei Hsieh or Tamara Zidansek.

The Australian will be one of the favourites at Roland Garros after her victory there in 2019 and because of her excellent recent form.

Barty arrived in Madrid on the back of winning her third WTA title this year in Stuttgart, which took her winning streak to 11 matches on European red clay.

She said on Thursday she would to have adjust to the outdoor conditions in Madrid but there was little sign of awkwardness against Rogers, whom she has now beaten five times out of five, including four times this year.

Rogers, ranked 43rd, lost to Barty in the Australian Open round of 16 in February before pushing her to three sets on the hard courts in Charleston earlier this month.

But the American was no match for the counter-attacking punch of her opponent this time, with Barty able to absorb Rogers' aggression and coax her into too many mistakes.

Two breaks of serve in each set were enough for the top seed to seal a straight-forward victory in exactly an hour.

Earlier, fourth seed Elina Svitolina suffered a shock defeat to Switzerland's World No 40 Jil Teichmann but three-time Madrid champion Petra Kvitova, Angelique Kerber, Kiki Bertens and Johanna Konta all made it safely through.

Basilashvili advances

MUNICH: Fifth-seeded Nikoloz Basilashvili reached the quarterfinals of the Munich Open by beating Daniel Elahi Galan 6-4, 6-2 on Thursday.

Basilashvili, who clinched his fourth ATP title in Qatar last month, continued his bid for a fifth by saving five of the six break points he faced and converting four of his seven opportunities to beat the Colombian qualifier.

Sreejesh & Co get first does of Covid vaccine

NEW DELHI: PR Sreejesh led the way as the Olympic-bound Indian hockey teams on Thursday received their first dose of Covid-19 vaccines in Bengaluru. "I got my first shot covid-19 vaccine," Sreejesh, the men's team number one goalkeeper who has also led the team in the past, tweeted. He was administered the covishield vaccine.

S Korea inoculates Olympic athletes

SEOUL: South Korea began administering fast-track Covid-19 vaccines to athletes, coaches and others expected to attend the Tokyo Olympics. The Korean Sport and Olympic Committee said the first group of about 100 people received the first doses at a state-run hospital in Seoul at the start of the country's prioritized vaccination program for its Olympic delegation.

NOT ENOUGH O_2

The map and figures show the daily need for oxygen, measured in cubic metres of oxygen

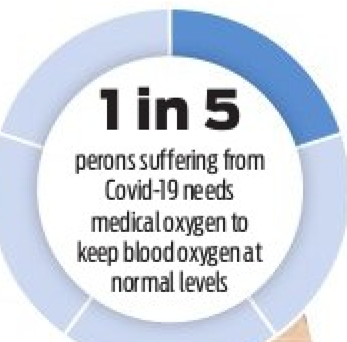
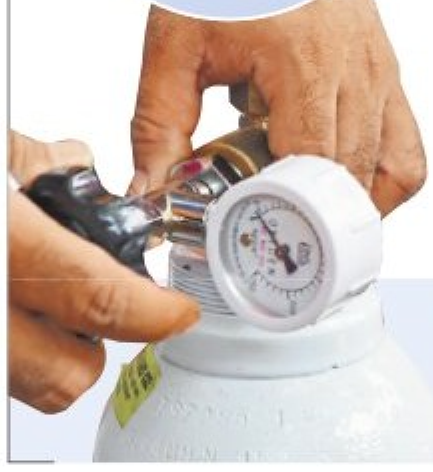
OXYGEN SHORTAGES CHOKE POOR COUNTRIES

Developing nations have for months now grappled with acute shortages of medical O_2, with demand vastly outstripping supply. The oxygen crisis became India's daily reality in April, as our hospitals buckled in response to Covid-19 patients' need for O_2. We show you how and why the world is facing this widespread problem





Why is medical oxygen hard to come by?

- Cost (could go up to `20,000 in normal times)
- Industry's limited infrastructure
- Logistical difficulties such as storage and transport

Rich-poor gap

In wealthy nations, hospitals own large oxygen tanks that can pipe the life-saving gas directly to patient beds. But poor countries use individual O2 cylinders — the source of all logistical problems. Oxygen concentrators can fix this issue of supply to some extent, but they produce O2 only in small quantities

A side product

Factories that have the capacity to make oxygen in a large scale are mainly owned by commercial companies that produce the gas for reasons other than medical. Even when medical-grade oxygen is made, it is not factories' main product

O_2 cylinders required per day by low-and-middle-income countries

HOW MEDICAL OXYGEN IS MADE

O_2 is separated from other gases and impurities in the atmosphere by repeatedly compressing, filtering and purifying. After the rigourous process, O2 with 99.5% purity is achieved and stored in cylinders

-182°C | If compressed into liquid form, medical oxygen has to be maintained at ultra-freezing temperatures of minus 182 degrees Celsius. The advantage with liquid oxygen is that one litre of it is the equivalent of about 800 litres in normal O_2 form

O_2 concentrators

Portable, power-hungry machines that can make oxygen with 90-95% purity. They are useful for mild to moderate respiratory illness, but cannot replace oxygen cylinders for severely ill patients

Life saver

Medical oxygen is often essential in treating people with any type of respiratory distress

5 lakh | people around the world needed a total of 12 lakh oxygen canisters a day, the WHO estimated in February

O2 shortages have in the past led to deaths of children with pneumonia

'Higher body weight linked with severe Covid risk'

Patients who are overweight have more chances of landing in ICU, says Lancet study

HEALTH

NEW DELHI: Being overweight is associated with an increased risk of worse outcomes from Covid-19, including higher ICU admissions, according to a study published on Thursday in The Lancet Diabetes & Endocrinology journal.

The researchers from the University of Oxford in the UK noted that this is the first large study to report the effect of bodyweight on risk of worse outcomes from Covid-19 across the full range of body-mass index (BMI).

BMI is a measure of body fat calculated by dividing a person's weight in kilogrammes by the square of height in metres. The study is based on more than 6.9 million people living in England and included data from over 20,000 Covid-19 patients who were hospitalised or died during the first wave of the pandemic in the country.

The researchers found that the risk of worse outcomes from Covid-19 start rising in people with a BMI above 23 kilogrammes per square metre (kg/m2), which is considered to be in the healthy range. The risks of hospitalisation were 5 per cent higher for each one unit increase in BMI and the risk of ICU admission was 10 per cent higher for each unit increase, they said.

People who were underweight (BMI less than 18.5) also experienced worse outcomes from Covid-19, they said.

The effect of excess weight on the risk of severe Covid-19 was greatest in young people aged 20 to 39 years of age and decreased after age 60, according to the study.

Increasing BMI had very little impact on the risk of severe Covid-19 in people aged over 80 years, the researchers said. However, the overall incidence of severe Covid-19 among people aged 20 to 39 years of age was lower than all other age groups, they said. "Our study shows that even very modest excess weight is associated with greater risks of severe Covid-19 complications and the risks rise sharply as BMI increases," said Carmen Piernas, lead author of the study, from the University of Oxford.

"We also show that the risks associated with excess weight are greatest in people aged under 40 years, while weight has little to no effect on your chances of developing severe Covid-19 after age 80," Piernas said. These findings suggest that vaccination policies should prioritise people with obesity, especially now the vaccine is being rolled out to younger age-groups, the researchers said. Previous studies have reported that obesity is associated with more severe outcomes after infection with SARS-CoV-2 virus, but this is the first to examine the consequences of excess weight on Covid-19 outcomes across full range of BMI.

It is based on anonymised health records from 6,910,685 community-based patients in QResearch database of routinely collected electronic patient health records in England.

China launches core module successfully

SPACE

BEIJING: China's ambitious space programme got a major boost on Thursday when it successfully launched the core module of its space station as part of its aim to complete the construction of the facility by the end of next year.

The Long March-5B Y2 rocket, carrying the Tianhe module, blasted off from the Wenchang Spacecraft Launch Site on the coast of the southern island province of Hainan.

Encased in the extra-large fairing of the country's state-of-the-art Long March-5B launch vehicle, Tianhe meaning Harmony in Heaven reached the designated orbit after a flight of around one hour, state-run Global Times reported.

Chinese President Xi Jinping congratulated the successful launch of the core module of China's space station. Xi, in his message, said the successful launch of the core module marks that China's space station construction has entered the full implementation stage, which lays a solid foundation for the follow-up tasks.

The Tianhe module will act as the management and control hub of the space station Tiangong, meaning Heavenly Palace, with a node that could dock with up to three spacecraft at a time for short stays, or two for long, Bai Linhou, deputy chief designer of the space station at the China Academy of Space Technology (CAST) said, state-run Xinhua reported.

Tianhe has a total length of 16.6 meters, a maximum diameter of 4.2 meters and a take-off mass of 22.5 tonnes, and is the largest spacecraft developed by China. The space station will be a T-shape with the core module at the centre and a lab capsule on each side. Each module will be over 20 tonnes. When the station docks with both manned and cargo spacecraft, its weight could reach nearly 100 tonnes.

The station will operate in low-Earth orbit at an altitude from 340 km to 450 km. It has a designed lifespan of 10 years, but experts believe it could last more than 15 years with appropriate maintenance and repairs. "We will learn how to assemble, operate and maintain large spacecraft in orbit," said Bai.

GM ORGANISM LAWS NEED OVERHAUL

GENETICS

BRUSSELS: A new European Union study finds that the two decade-old legislation on genetically modified organisms should be revamped, a process environmentalists claim will open the door to a new generation of bioengineered crops being allowed into the EU market without proper checks.

The study is a first step by the 27-nation EU to assess the latest technologies in crop production, and the European Commission said it found that 'the current 2001 GMO legislation is not for purpose' to address many issues in the future. GMOs have divided the EU for a generation, pitting those claiming that new sorts of 'Frankenfood' would irreversibly damage health and nature against those who said that revolutionary techniques were the only way to feed an ever-growing global population. The current legislation had given environmentalists the assurance that the European Union wouldn't become a free-for-all for agro multinationals to produce GMOs in bulk and sell them to the bloc's 450 million citizens without detailed labeling and warnings.

Based on the new evidence, EU food safety chief Stella Kyriakides said that 'New Genomic Techniques can promote the sustainability of agricultural production.'

'MUMMY A PREGNANT LADY'

ANTHROPOLOGY

Polish researchers examining an ancient Egyptian mummy that they expected to be a male priest were surprised when X-rays and computer tests revealed instead it was a mummy of a woman who had been seven months pregnant. The researchers said Thursday it's the world's first known case of such a well-preserved ancient mummy of a pregnant woman. The mummy arrived in Warsaw in 1826 and the inscription on the coffin named a male priest. No examination until current one disproved the belief that it was a male. 'Our first surprise was that it has no male organ, but instead it has breasts and long hair,' Marzena Ozarek-Szilke, an anthropologist said.

BRONZE AGE TREASURE

ARCHAEOLOGY

A Swedish orienteering enthusiast working on a map earlier in April stumbled across a stash of some 50 Bronze Age relics dating back over 2,500 years, authorities said Thursday. Mainly consisting of ancient jewelry, the find outside the small town of Alingsas in western Sweden represents one of "the most spectacular and largest cache finds" from the Bronze Age ever in the Nordic country, the County Administrative Board said in a statement. Among the relics, believed to be from the period between 750 and 500 BC, are some "very well preserved necklaces, chains and needles" made out of bronze.

Slashing carbon pollution? Geoengineering could be option

ENVIRONMENT

PARIS: Dismissed a decade ago as far-fetched and dangerous, schemes to tame the effects of global warming by engineering the climate have migrated from the margins of policy debates towards centre stage.

"Plan A" remains tackling the problem at its source. But the UN's top climate science body has made it clear that slashing carbon pollution won't be enough to keep Earth from overheating.

That has opened the door to a host of geoengineering schemes, from building underwater walls to shore up an Antarctic glacier the size of Britain to injecting a giant sunscreen into the stratosphere. Here is a menu of "Plan B" geoengineering solutions and their drawbacks

Direct CO2 capture

Experiments have shown it is possible to suck planet-warming carbon dioxide directly from the air, converting it into fuel pellets or storing it underground. A company backed by Microsoft co-founder Bill Gates launched a pilot facility in Canada in 2015, and another company operates one in Iceland. DRAWBACK: The technology is currently prohibitively expensive and might take decades to operate at scale.

Solar radiation mgmt

Unlike other strategies, solar radiation management does not target CO2. The goal is simple: prevent some of the sun's rays from hitting the planet's surface, forcing them back up into space. One idea is to inject or spray tiny reflective particles into the stratosphere — possibly with balloons, aircraft or through giant tubes.

DRAWBACKS: Even if it works as intended, solar radiation management would do nothing to reduce atmospheric CO2, which is making oceans too acidic. There is also the danger of knock-on consequences, including changes in rainfall patterns, and what scientists call "termination shock".
